

Made By Humans Unveils Home Office Accessories For Work From Home Employees

June 25, 2020

June 25, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Made By Humans has taken the wraps off a whole slew of products that aim to appeal to the workers who have to work from home owing to the COVID 19 lockdown. The products include common office stationery like pencils, pens, journals, tape dispensers, pencil sharpeners, erasers, pencil holders, rulers, calendars, money banks, bookends, and photo holders. All of these are available in the store online at <https://madebyhumans.com/collections/office>.

Made By Humans is a novelty item store with a guiding philosophy that is described by its spokesperson as 'fun yet functional'. 'The aim behind the curated list of products,' as described by Freddie Boersma, 'is to spark the imagination of the customers. Once you hook them in with a great concept you develop a lasting bond with them. Our mission is to make quirky office supplies that have a great sense of humor. Of course, the product is kept alive in the customer's memory only if there is a practical use for it other than just being a one-note joke. So we try our best to pick things that our customers might actually use on a daily basis. We strive to ensure that all the home office decor products have excellent quality and usability.'

The company spokesperson added that the office collection has been released at the right time amidst the surge of people working from home due to the COVID 19 workspace restrictions. According to a statistic by the Gartner COVID 19 Bulletin, 88% of organizations have encouraged or required their employees to work from home. Many thought leaders in the corporate hiring space have predicted that a lot of jobs are going to permanently move to a Work-From-Home model. This applies mainly to white-collar workers in the knowledge economy. A Gartner article, titled "How to Cultivate Effective Remote Work Programs", claims that remote workers are 35 to 40% more productive than their office working counterparts.

Made By Humans claims to create products that help employees stay productive while adding a touch of personalization to their home workspace. The spokesperson says, "The products are designed with an eye on uniqueness. You won't find our products on store shelves. We offer something one of a kind. The USP of our quirky office supplies is not just the humor and exclusivity but also the excellent build quality and durability. There are no alternatives to Made By Humans products!"

Customers can add their favorite novelty desk accessories to a wishlist on the website in case they want to save them for later. This requires logging in to the website using an email id. The company confidently states in its privacy policy that its system does not sell the customer's private information to third parties. All the customer information is stored on secured servers to make sure sensitive information like names, addresses, and credit card numbers are not lost, misused, accessed, disclosed, altered, or destroyed. To encourage the customer to login, the company offers a 15% discount off their first-ever purchase.

"We want to make sure that the customers have a very pleasant experience with us. We are extremely confident in our vetting process to find the best novelty desk accessories - not only in quality but also in creativity. This is why we offer a 2-week refund if you are not happy with your purchase. We only ask that the product itself and the packaging it came in should be undamaged," Freddie Boersma said when talking about the company's return policy.

The home office decor company is located at 1628 West, 75th Avenue, Vancouver, BC, V6P 6G2, Canada. Customers can call +1 604 275-5570 between 9 AM and 5 PM pacific standard time to directly have a conversation with the company's representatives. Though the company is based in Canada, it ships the orders in the US from the Washington State area within 2-3 business days of the order being placed. The estimated delivery time depends on the type of shipping chosen at the time of purchase.
