January 30, 2026

January 30, 2026 -
Brandy Dolan, a leader at Dolan Roofing & Construction, has been elected President of the Central Texas Roofing Contractors Association (CTRCA) Board of Directors for 2026. The appointment reflects the trust and respect earned from fellow roofing professionals throughout Central Texas who recognize Dolan's commitment to advancing industry education and ethical standards.

The peer-elected position places Brandy Dolan at the helm of CTRCA's initiatives to strengthen contractor education, promote ethical business practices, and elevate the roofing industry's reputation throughout Central Texas. As a regional chapter of the Roofing Contractors Association of Texas (RCAT), the CTRCA serves as a vital resource for contractors seeking professional development and industry advancement in one of the state's most dynamic construction markets.

"Being elected to the presidency represents tremendous trust from my peers who believe in our shared vision for elevating the roofing industry," said Brandy Dolan, President of CTRCA and leader at the family-owned roofing company in San Antonio. "Our focus remains on creating educational opportunities that benefit contractors of all sizes while ultimately serving our communities better through improved standards and practices."

CTRCA's role extends beyond traditional trade association functions, serving as a cornerstone for professional development in a state where geographic distances can isolate contractors from valuable learning opportunities. The organization facilitates in-person education events, networking sessions, and collaborative forums where contractors share insights and solutions to common challenges facing the industry.

The appointment comes at a pivotal time when the roofing industry faces evolving challenges, including material innovations, environmental considerations, and changing consumer expectations. Under Dolan's leadership, CTRCA plans to address these challenges through comprehensive educational initiatives designed to prepare contractors for emerging market demands.

The residential roofing contractor in San Antonio has demonstrated consistent leadership in promoting industry excellence through active participation in professional organizations. Dolan's presidency priorities center on expanding educational programs that help contractors stay current with evolving technologies, safety protocols, and customer service standards that define modern roofing excellence.

"Education stands as our highest priority because it directly impacts the quality of work delivered to homeowners and businesses across Central Texas," Dolan explained. "Through targeted training programs and knowledge sharing, we strengthen individual businesses while raising standards across the entire roofing sector."

The organization's commitment to ethical standards and professional excellence aligns with the values that have guided Dolan Roofing & Construction since its founding in 2016. The company has built its reputation on quality workmanship, customer service, and community engagement throughout the greater San Antonio area.

As CTRCA continues developing programs that benefit both contractors and consumers, Dolan's presidency promises to strengthen the organization's impact on Central Texas communities. The focus on education and ethical practices ensures that homeowners and businesses receive superior roofing services from qualified, knowledgeable professionals committed to excellence.
