Roof Royale Offers Roof Evaluation For Austin Area Homeowners

August 31, 2020

Hutto, Texas - August 31, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Roof Royale a local and veteran owned roofing company in Austin, Texas, encourages homeowners in Austin to contract them for a roof evaluation. The company states that summer's long sun exposure can cause irreversible damage to asphalt and flat roofs. Intense storms introduce the risk of water damage if the home's roof is worn out and unmaintained. If left unresolved leads to higher roof cost repairs down the road.

For those interested, the company recently released an article on how to choose the right roof repair company in Austin, TX, which can be found on their website <https://austinroofroyale.com/roof-repair-company-in-austin-tx/>. Tony Schlessinger, the founder of the company, says, "We have years of experience in both flat and pitched roofs, which means that we have what it takes to assist anyone in our service area. Now is the perfect time to have one's roof inspected and evaluated as storms come in that could cause massive damage."

The company states that these storms bring along a lot of wind and rain, which could seriously damage a roof that already has minor issues. Along with the actual roofing issues, a leaky roof can cause significant damage to the interior of a home, causing the need for new paint, new flooring, and even new walls and ceilings in severe cases.

"It is essential that anyone who has noticed any signs of leakage contact us immediately," says Tony. "And not only that, but people must know that their roof is good for the incoming fall storms. Homeowners need to know if any minor issues could turn into major expenses, and Roof Royale can provide those homeowners with an evaluation of their roof to put their minds at ease."

The company states that when a customer contacts them, they will provide the customer with an estimate. The estimate gives them information that they need, such as the roof's size, which enables the company to price their materials and labor that is needed for the repair or replacement. The company adds that they always work with customers to find the price that best fits their budget and that they offer a wide range of roofing materials in various colors and styles to meet every need.

In addition to traditional shingles, the company also provides slate and metal roofs that are famed for their longevity. The company representative states that customers can contact them for an estimate for replacing their old roof with new materials that not only help it to last longer but can significantly increase the overall value of the home.

The roofing contractor in Austin is a locally owned and operated company. They currently provide their wide range of roofing services throughout their base location of Austin and outlying areas of Hutto, Round Rock, Pflugerville, Georgetown, Leander, Cedar Park, and various other nearby neighborhoods.

Those interested in speaking with the company about a roofing evaluation can contact them during their regular business hours or visit them online. The company's website offers much more detailed information about their range of services and the specific roofing materials that they offer.

Those who have questions can visit the company online to read more or contact them via phone or email to speak with a professional roofing technician. The company states that they are available for those who are unsure of the type of roofing material they have or want, answer questions, and help customers choose the materials, style, and color that bring the most beauty, functionality, and value to their homes. Those who have emergency needs can also contact the company using the contact information that is found on their website. The full-service company specializes in new installations, replacements, and maintenance and also offers roof condition certifications and inspections.
