IDAHO FALLS, ID ? Cure Touch Massage Therapy announced today that it has opened a new location in Idaho Falls. The location is the second for the company and offers extensive massage therapy clinical treatments as well as traditional spa treatments. Cure Touch is unique in that it accepts personal injury claims, worker?s comp, and common health insurance plans. This new location is located at 2450 East 25th Street, Suite C, across from PetsMart and Porter?s Craft.

?We?re proud of being able to offer a wide variety of massage ? the best in town since 2010,? said Emily Larson (Thompson), founder. ?Rexburg was a great place to begin because of the diverse college community from all over the country. We saw the lack of clinical massage options in Idaho Falls and decided to invest in this expansion. We only hire the best massage therapists and never compromise on service.?

Cure Touch specializes in Myofascial Release, Deep Tissue, Ashiatsu Deep Feet Therapy, Swedish Massage, Couples Massage and several other modalities. They also offer spa treatments such as facials and waxing. These services offer numerous benefits, including helping alleviate tension-related headaches, assisting in recovery after a car accident, improving range of motion and joint flexibility, alleviating lower-back pain and relaxing overused muscles, reducing post-surgery adhesions and swelling and managing anxiety and depression. Massage Therapy is becoming more widely accepted as an alternative to traditional treatments for many of these ailments.
