Arnesen Webb, P.A., a commercial property insurance claims lawyer in Boca Raton, FL, has emphasized that they are committed to ensuring people are treated fairly by their insurance companies. Unfortunately, they have found that some insurance companies act in bad faith, either fully or partially denying valid claims. They encourage anyone in that situation to contact them as soon as possible to make sure they receive the compensation they have paid for.

Jay Arnesen, co-founder of Arnesen Webb, P.A., says: "Insurance companies are, first and foremost, businesses, and businesses are there to make money. It is understandable that they will do all they can to pay out as little as possible when it comes to claims. However, some insurance firms are taking this too far. For a commercial business, this can mean the end of their enterprise, sometimes even leading to bankruptcy. We are there to represent them and to make sure they don't get short changed on their policies."

Commercial insurance is a complex type of insurance. A policy means that the business should be restored to the condition it was in before in case of a disaster. Statistics show, however, that insurance adjusters regularly underadjust claims, and then underpay them. Some even deny the claim in full. For a business, this is disastrous. Arnesen Webb aims to ensure nobody is in that situation again.

"Through excellent representation, we make sure that our clients are not just covered for any structural damage, but also for their lost profits and business interruption," adds Jay Arnesen. "It is vital that this is handled properly, as this can really make the difference between having a claim accepted, or a claim denied. We want to encourage people to contact us as soon as they want to make a claim on their insurance, so as to make sure the situation is dealt with properly."

Those who require the services of the insurance lawyers are encouraged to contact them straight away. An easy contact form has been made available through the company's website on http://insurancelawyers.org/contact/. After completing the form, a representative will get in touch for no obligation advice on what the next steps should be towards filing a claim.
