Finding the right legal help is so important when dealing with personal injury claims. The journey of navigating the claims process can be incredibly time-consuming, worrying, and overwhelming. That is why law firms like Gary Matthews Solicitors have become a trusted partner to inform thousands of clients seeking assistance in the city: they make understanding the entire injury or medical negligence claims process as effortless as possible and remove all of the worry, doubt, and uncertainty that many inevitably experience.

Each claim is dealt with personally by an individually-assigned solicitor from the firm, which is highly-rated on Google and Trust Pilot for its incredible level of personal service and professionalism, as well as its ability to deliver results to clients who need to get their life back. Regardless of the form of injury, from car accidents, medical negligence, work-related injuries, or other incidents in which the client was a hapless victim due to no fault of their own, personal injury solicitors like those at Personal Injury Solicitors Dublin are experts in dealing with a wide range of claims.

“Bringing a case to a successful conclusion after experiencing a horrible accident is paramount to getting back to living a normal, fulfilling life,” Gary Matthews, principle at the firm (also known as Personal injury solicitors, Dublin) says. “As one of Dublin’s most experienced firms in the industry, we understand how to approach each unique claim and ensure no details are missed and all steps are taken correctly. It’s the only way to make sure that we succeed for our clients and our excellent reviews are proof of this.”

Gary Matthews Solicitors also explains “no win, no fee” agreements to clients. “We are in this together, and we are ready to fight for anyone who comes to our door,” Matthews says. “Getting in touch with one of our solicitors is the first step though, and we are ready to help and educate on the many processes and difficulties surrounding personal injury claims.”

Matthews explains that in Ireland, “all personal injury claims must be made to the Injuries Board (PIAB)”.

This requires specific forms and documentation to be compiled and filed, including a medical report. Gary Matthews Solicitors take this process on for each of its clients, lifting the burden entirely off the shoulders of the injured person and expertly completing the reporting and filing processes correctly, quickly, and accurately.
