December 10, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Diamond Rock Spring Water Company, a water bottle and water cooler delivery service operating in Ridgefield Park, NJ, is offering its services to customers exclusively to the Bergen, Hudson, Essex, and Union County areas. They offer products such as bottled water in cases ranging from 5 gallons to 8 ounces, water coolers, Keurig machines, coffee pods, and more.

The Diamond Rock family says that they are very aware of the importance of drinking clean water. The company bottles and distributes natural spring water to both residential and commercial accounts throughout New Jersey. The source of the company's natural spring water is a pristine area in the Kittatinny Mountains protected by land preservation. The water is government tested, FDA approved, and licensed by the NJ State Department of Health.

They offer 3-gallon and 5-gallon bottles that are required for coolers. Aligned with that business, they also offer various options to own or lease different models of coolers. They also install waterline filters and coolers to the waterline (bottle-less coolers). They also offer their customers 8oz., 16.9oz., 1 Liter, 1.5 Liter, and single gallon cases of natural spring water. In addition, they offer distilled water in 5-gallon or single gallon cases. Diamond Rock is also a direct distributor of all Keurig K-Cups and Brewers. They can offer at least 140 different brands of K-Cups. They say their pricing is the most competitive in the market because their boxes contain 24 K-Cups to a box. More products and services can be found on the company's Facebook Page.

The company says that Diamond Rock Spring Water bottles and water coolers both require periodic cleaning/sanitizing. They say that it is important to know that bottled water can last for very long periods of time without affecting the quality and taste of the water. However, customers should rotate bottles using the oldest bottles first. They also say that it is very important not to store extra bottles in direct sunlight since it can adversely affect bottled water by promoting algae growth over a period of time.

Diamond Rock can be contacted Monday through Friday, during regular business hours, or Saturday mornings and the customers will be greeted with the company's well-trained personnel. The company says that there are no binding contracts. All deliveries are scheduled on specific days of the week. Their customers either call before their delivery date or schedule-routed. There are no contracts or required minimums. Diamond Rock also has a cash and carry business. If customers are in the neighborhood, they can stop in and pick up all of their products at considerable savings.

Diamond Rock Spring Water Company is a family-owned and operated business since 1994. Mario Picinich, owner, and his son, Richard Picinich, claim to share an ongoing philosophy of providing each customer with quality products, competitive pricing, and personal service. The family also believes in giving back to the community and children's charities. They donate water to all local teams, and fundraisers hosted by their customers. They sponsor a town softball team and a local soccer team. Their donations include scholarships to graduating Seniors and The Gift Of Life Fund, which provides open heart surgery for underprivileged children. They also donate to the "Go the Distance for Autism" charity.

According to a review by Eric Zhang, "Great water for great prices. I've been going here for a few years now. I bring back old 5-gallon containers and get new ones for only $4. It's a great deal and I can't find it cheaper elsewhere. Plus, the water tastes great." According to another review by Shoshana P, "The staff is amazing! We have our water/coffee delivered to our office. They are prompt and courteous and the price is great! We have also bought our machines from them and they have given us the best pricing for that as well. Highly recommend!" According to another review by Mike Bowman, "Anyone will sell you water or coffee, but these guys know how to treat a customer. Not just fair prices, but unsurpassed customer service!"

More reviews of the company's service can be read on its GMB listing.
