Miami, Florida based Vitamin Remedies has announced a total of seven new products to their lineup. The company offers various science-based supplements, and their Joint Cartilage Complex is currently a hot seller on the Amazon marketplace. "We're one of Amazon's best sellers, with more than 100 five star reviews at the moment," states spokesperson Elio Constanza. "Our Detox Complex is really close to hitting that mark as well."

In addition to a new sleep supplement, the company has also added detox supplements and cholesterol supplements to its product line. All products are currently available on the Amazon marketplace. The company aims to only offer products that are high quality and made with natural ingredients. "We wouldn't want our customers to buy anything that isn't safe, so our products are physician formulated and all contain high quality ingredients," says Elio Constanza.

For all of the new products, Vitamin Remedies is offering a 60 day unconditional money back guarantee to ensure customer satisfaction. All products by the company are made in the U.S.A. and contain organic and herbal ingredients.

Vitamin Remedies currently has nine products on the Amazon marketplace, including the seven that have been recently launched. All are protected by the money back guarantee and all contain natural and herbal ingredients, designed to be safer than many supplements currently on the market.

The products range from cholesterol and blood pressure regulators to hair growth, brain boosters, and their best-selling joint supplement, which is designed to alleviate joint pain from injuries or arthritis and includes ginger root, glucosamine, and various other natural ingredients.

Many of the supplemental products offered by Vitamin Remedies also include a free eBook that can be downloaded upon purchase. The ebooks are designed to help consumers to better understand the issues that the supplements help to remedy, and provide information on improving quality of life in spite of those problems.

"The book is an added bonus," states Elio Constanza. "We just want to help consumers as much as we can through our products and knowledge of various illnesses and issues."

More about the company can be seen on the Amazon website on the company's product page.
