

Advantavita Extends Promotion For Vitamin D3 5000 IU

September 21, 2015

September 21, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Deerfield Beach, Florida based AdvantaVita has announced that they are extending the promotion for their popular Vitamin D3 product. The company had been running a back to school sale on the Amazon marketplace, offering the product at $17.99, as opposed to its original price of $26.97. Chris Johnson, spokesperson for AdvantaVita, announced recently that the sale is nearly over.

"There are only four more days remaining," he states. "We have extended our discounted promotional price until Sunday, September 27th. After that date, the regular price will be back."

The product, which can be seen at <http://www.amazon.com/gp/product/B00Z7G70WS>, is a Vitamin D supplement, created with natural ingredients. The company ensures that the vitamin is made available in organic, extra virgin olive oil, and without any stearates, fillers, artificial colorants, or preservatives.

Research done by AdvantaVita into Vitamin D administered with olive oil showed that the vitamin is better absorbed than when given with fish oil. "It's our mission to help people live longer and healthier lives," states Chris Johnson. "This is why we want our products to have the maximum effectiveness possible."

The company states that the very reason for their founding this new product line was when their CEO received a serious medical diagnosis, and elected to decline making use of conventional medical therapies, opting instead to use more natural or holistic treatments. "It just skyrocketed from there," states Chris Johnson. Once the results were seen through healthier living, the company knew that they needed to offer these products to consumers, and their promotional discount was one way of reaching as many consumers as possible.

Nevertheless, Chris Johnson believes that all good things must come to an end, and that consumers who purchase the product after the September 27 deadline will have to be charged full price. AdvantaVita offers a selection of products and services, designed to promote overall wellness and healthier living. Their Vitamin D product can be found on the Amazon marketplace.
