Panama City, Fla. ? Unfortunately, pets do not care about having a nice, clean home nearly as much as their owners do. Though it does not outweigh the benefits of having a furry friend, one of the difficulties of owning a pet is the inevitable addition of stains and odors to the home. Fortunately, Panama City carpet cleaner CCS Floor Care has a reliable, well-developed process of removing pet-related stains and odors from carpets and upholstery. This month, with spring cleaning on the rise, CCS Floor Care is explaining this method.

One of the trickiest aspects of cleaning stains, especially smelly ones from pets, is the difficulty of avoiding pressing the substance further through the backing of the carpet and into the padding. This is what occurs when a typical steam cleaner is used, as many cleaning companies do. When it comes to pet urine, the enzymes in CCS Floor Care's treatment chemically break down the urine and pull it out of the fibers, as well as eliminate the odor and 99.9% of the bacteria and germs.

CCS Floor Care points out that timing is crucial when it comes to pet stains. For example, pet urine is acidic, meaning it is a great place for bacteria to settle down and reproduce within your carpet. In a short time, an odor will arise, and the urine will begin to oxidize. When this happens, the urine will react with the carpet fibers, causing a chemical reaction that results in the fibers changing in color. Therefore, it is vital to the carpet's well-being that pet stains are removed as soon as possible and in full to prevent color change.

CCS Floor Care has been serving the Panama City area for over 30 years, using only their best, carefully developed cleaning processes.
