US Coachways is offering charter bus rentals for groups traveling to Philadelphia for work and leisure. US Coachways has three decades of experience in the tourist and corporate bus rental business. It handles more than 20,000 trips for groups and individuals all over the country every year.

Philadelphia is an often frequented destination due to its historical and cultural significance. The City of Brotherly Love gets its fair share of visitors willing to soak in some history or enjoy a sports game at one of its many world-class stadiums. There are also many tourist attractions of cultural significance like the 72 steps to the Philadelphia Museum of Art that are most fondly remembered as the steps from the montage shot in Rocky (1976). The best way to experience this inspiring city is with a group of friends or family members.

However, traveling in a large group in a congested city like Philadelphia can be a challenge. The city has over 1.5 million inhabitants and was planned before modern city planning norms were put in place, leading to streets that are narrower than most novice drivers would be comfortable in. According to the TomTom Traffic Index, the city also ranks 281 in the world when it comes to traffic congestion. The traffic is especially bad during rush hour in the morning and evening when the city's workers are traveling to and fro from their homes in the suburbs and their work in the city. In such conditions, it takes an experienced driver to navigate the streets and take the group to the desired destination on time.

A traveling group also has to make frequent stops along the journey to fuel up and recharge on some local delicacies. An experienced driver who knows the lay of the land can figure out the perfect itinerary to keep the entire group happy and energized for the duration of the trip. Traveling together in a Philadelphia bus rental means that all luggage and valuable items are secured in a vehicle that only the group has access to, along with the convenience of not having to coordinate different vehicles.

US Coachways recommends charter buses as one of the safest ways to travel. Trained drivers who are familiar with a city's streets ensure that the group is in safe hands all throughout the trip. US Coachways cites studies that have shown that traveling on a charter bus reduces the likelihood of injury compared to other modes of transport. It is also cheaper as less fuel is utilized when traveling together in one vehicle. There is also the prospect of lower toll fees and the chance to use the high occupancy vehicle lanes when moving on the highway, to reach one's destination faster.

Travel was restricted all throughout 2020 due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Restrictions are slowly being lifted but there are still precautions that need to be taken when traveling as a group. US Coachways trains its drivers to follow all COVID-19 protocols to ensure safe passage for all the travelers in the group. PPE and hand sanitizer are always stocked and ready to be used. After every trip, the charter vehicles are disinfected to ensure that there is no cross-contamination.

A spokesperson for the company speaks about the advantages of hiring a charter bus by saying, "A charter bus rental is a great option for groups traveling for corporate or business functions, family outings, school trips, church outings, concerts, games, and other special events. You as a family or group of friends are here to see the sights of the city and have a good time. You shouldn't have to worry about logistics when you are on vacation. When you hire US Coachways, you get the best guides, drivers, and vehicles for your trip. If you estimate the expense for a large group of people traveling in different vehicles, you will find that hiring a charter bus is a bargain. It will save you both money and the headache of managing the trip. You can just sit back, relax and let the experts take care of your trip.
