

Pro Pad Launches Motorcycle Sheepskin Gel Pad

September 29, 2015

September 29, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Mooresville, North Carolina based company Pro Pad Inc. has announced a new product to their existing lineup. They have made available the new sheepskin gel pad for motorcycle seats. The company states that they are always looking for ways to increase customer satisfaction, and the addition of the sheepskin seat pads is one way for them to do that. Pro Pad covers all of their products with a warranty, and states that only the highest quality of materials are used in their products.

Mike Enzwiler, president of the company, recently made a statement about the new product launch. He said, "We use real sheepskin on our pads to provide our customers with luxurious comfort for miles and miles. These are really comfortable and we know that our customers will love them."

The company states that the new pads are hand cut and sewn for the highest quality of craftsmanship. They also provide a fitting chart on their website to assist customers in selecting the pad that will fit their seat perfectly.

The pads, which can be seen at <http://thepropad.com/sheepskin-seat-pads/>, come in a range of sizes for motorcycles, trucks, and RVs, and offer specialized gel. "All of our pads feature our medical grade polymer gel pad for extra comfort," explains Mike Enzwiler.

Pro Pad Inc. is a family owned business that manufactures parts and accessories for motorcycles, including seat pads and gel seat inserts. The company focuses on providing comfortable seating for those on the go. All products by Pro Pad are manufactured in the United States.

The newly launched sheepskin pads have been featured in a review by Baggers Magazine. Price varies by size, and each pad is designed for extreme comfort. Motorcycle pads are specifically designed by seat type and size for a more comfortable fit. The sheepskin pads all contain a polymer insert, which is covered by a three year warranty from the purchase date against leaks, cracks, and other issues. The outer cover is covered by Pro Pad's one year warranty.
