

StarofService Opens Professional Platform to Australian Market

September 28, 2015

September 28, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

StarofService continues its world wide growth as they announced the opening of their services to the Australian Market. This start-up company provides an online platform that connects the customers to a wide range of services instead of products. This involves services from local professionals such as wedding planners, caterers, lawyers and photographers. Instead of making a dozen inquiries through expensive phone calls and wasting a lot of time, StartofService provides customers with a simple, easy and effective way to connect with professionals. This ingenious innovation helps build and promote local businesses of qualified and trusted professionals.

Local businesses and professionals can create a profile at StarofService website. They will then be able to build their own portfolio according to the service that they offer. They can include their rates, contact information, professional profile and client's review as well allowing potential customers and clients to have a detailed overview of the service they offer.

Customers from Australia will now have access to a wide range of local professionals and the services that are showcased in the StarofService.com.au website. "I was looking for a freelance photographer for my wedding and I was impressed at how convenient it was for me to navigate and check the profiles of photographers in my area!" says Samantha Lauren, a resident of Sydney who used StarofService for the first time. "All I did was create my profile, entered my zip code and searched for photographers and the site showed me the most qualified professionals near my location," she added.

StartofService was founded by Lucas Lambertini, Toni Paignant and Mael Leclair in November 2013. It has been growing rapidly every since despite the rise in the number of competitors. Last year alone, they made more than 100,000,000 Euro for their professionals. This year, StarofService is entering new markets all over the world. It aims to reach more clients and help local professionals work independently.

###

For more information about StarOfService Australia, contact the company here:StarOfService Australialman Bahrani+61 431 212 025iman@starofservice.com2211/9 Ferny Avenue, Surfers Paradise, QLD, 4217

StarOfService Australia

StarofService.com.au is an Australian website connecting professionals with customers. Please see link that details all the information- <http://www.starofservice.com.au/service/team>

Email: iman@starofservice.com

Phone: +61 431 212 025

Powered by PressAdvantage.com