Mummy's Miracle Baby Skincare, a company of baby products based in Casselberry, FL, has released several blog posts on its blog site that offer tips for moms on taking care of their babies and kids during the hot summer season. These include common health problems of kids during summer; water safety for children; how to keep the baby cool during summer; and a guide on baby's heat rash.

The team from Mummy's Miracle Baby Skincare says, "We always want to be of help to mom, even in simple and little ways. Hence, we created this summer blog series to help and prep moms for the summer. Moms know that the heat of summer can be uncomfortable for many babies, especially when they cause rashes and other conditions like sunstroke and dehydration. Insect bites may also be prevalent during summer as there are more insects. Our articles aim to provide mothers with some tips on how they can protect their babies and kids during this season."

There are a lot of health problems that kids and babies may face during summer, but the most common are insect bites; sunstroke and dehydration; rashes, sunburn, and blisters; waterborne diseases; conjunctivitis; and swimmer's ears. Being familiar with these health issues and how to prevent them is important to allow the children to enjoy the summer season and to ease that burden of worrying if your child is okay or not.

Moms can do something to prevent their kids from suffering from such conditions. For instance, insect bites may be prevented by applying insect repellent on them before going to places where insects are commonly found, such as plants and bushes. And with children wanting to play under the sun, there is the possibility of dehydration and sunstroke. Kids may also suffer from allergies, skin rashes, eczema, and blisters. Mothers can help avoid these problems by ensuring that their children's skin is free of moisture and sweat as much as possible. It may also help to change their clothes more frequently, especially when the clothes are wet with sweat.

Cholera, diarrhea and typhoid fever may also be possible when kids drink contaminated water. Moms can help avoid such diseases by warning kids not to drink water from anywhere. It may be a good idea to bring their own water to ensure that the water is not contaminated.

For babies, heat rash or prickly heat is a common problem during summer. This condition is caused by sweat getting trapped in the skin. This can be prevented by always monitoring the baby for indications of excessive sweat. Loose-fitting and breathable clothes may be used in warm areas to prevent the baby from sweating too much. And for heat rash, baby powder can be used to soothe babies by absorbing sweat.

To avoid such common problems during summer, Mummy's Miracle Baby Skincare offers a number of products that moms can use for their babies and kids. Moms can shop online for such products. These include: the All Natural Mummy's Miracle Talc-Free Cornstarch Baby Powder; Moringa Body Wash & Baby Shampoo & Bubble Bath - Lavender; Moringa Oil 2oz All Natural Sensitive Skin Hypoallergenic, Pure 100%; Mummy's Miracle Heavenly Bundle - 5 Bath-Time Essential for baby & family; Mummy's Miracle Moringa Baby Lotion 8oz All Natural Hypoallergenic Toxic-free; Mummy's Miracle Moringa Baby Lotion Lavender 8oz All Natural Hypoallergenic Toxic-free; Mummy's Miracle Moringa Baby Ointment 6.2oz Vitamin A & D All Natural Petroleum-free; Mummy's Miracle Mummy's Nipple and Lip Balm 2oz All Natural Food Grade To Soothe and Nourish; and more.

Another helpful blog post on the Mummy's Miracle Baby Skincare site is how to keep the baby cool during the hot summer months. Ways to do this include: staying out of direct sunlight; choosing the right clothes, which are lightweight and loose-fitting; keeping the baby hydrated through breastfeeding or through a feeding bottle; applying a minimal amount of sunscreen; putting a wet towel on the baby's forehead; using a fan to keep the baby cool; and keeping the curtains and blinds closed.
