October 14, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Cartoon Media has been rated one of the Top 10 Best Whiteboard Animation companies in the world.

10 Best Production, a team of video production experts, use their knowledge and experience of the industry and their Dynamic Rating System based on information such as quality of work and input of clients to create Top 10 lists of video companies worldwide in various niches. They ranked Cartoon Media #7 in their list of Best Whiteboard Animation companies for October 2015.

10 Best Production said: "Cartoon Media is a whiteboard animation firm that is dedicated to telling your story, and making it grow. Through their fully customized videos, they get people to notice, understand, care about and buy from you. So what makes Cartoon Media special? First of all, they put you and your needs on a pedestal rather than a conveyor belt by only working with a limited number of clients at a time. They also assign to you a personal project manager who focuses solely on your video and the video can be corrected an unlimited number of times to make sure you love the finished product."

They went on to say: "This firm has a strategy to get brands noticed, understood, and create customers that remain loyal. Their website has six promises to potential clients stating you will be a priority from the concept, with a dedicated team leader, brass talent and technology, and focused final video. There are testimonials from clients such as Siemens and Cargill citing an increase in website traffic, PPC clicks, and profits. Viral video views from past projects are the main endorsement that propels them at being the best with this medium. Their entire website is a calling card with explainer videos for all to peruse, which says they are confident in what they have to offer.?

Phil Hampton, Managing Director of Cartoon Media, said: "It's great to be recognised as one of the 10 Best Whiteboard Animation companies by such a team of video experts. Since we formed in 2012, we have honed our production process to be simple and effective for our clients, producing Whiteboard Animation Videos to exceed their business goals, and we thank 10 Best Production for recognising this."
