

Reputable Medical Spa Opens a New Location in High Point, North Carolina

November 01, 2021

Cornelius, North Carolina - November 01, 2021 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Pureficio MedSpa & Therapy has long been a staple in the Cornelius, North Carolina area for those that seek anti-aging and health & wellness therapies along with advancing their fitness level. The same highly-rated services that they offer in Cornelius are also now available in High Point, NC. That's because the company is pleased to announce that the new Pureficio MedSpa High Point location is now accepting clients. The med spa's owner, Melissa Lynch, says, "We have worked hard to build a solid clientele for our med spa services in the Cornelius area. One trend that we started to notice in regards to this was that our reputation had become such that even people outside the North Charlotte area were coming to get the therapies that we offer. We started to notice that many of these clients were coming from High Point and some of the surrounding areas. After taking a closer look at our situation in Cornelius, it just seemed like the right time to expand and the High Point area was the right place to do it."

Lynch went on to say that their new High Point location will operate following the same mission statement that the Cornelius med spa does. That's to help clients take steps towards total rejuvenation with plans and goals that are unique to each of them. They pledge to do their best to attempt to help every person that comes through their front door move about more freely and with little or no pain. She says that they try to show every client that they are not only beautiful but also fearfully and wonderfully made. This includes promoting total body change if that's what it takes to help a client meet their health and look goals. It's a mission statement that is clearly stated on the "about us" page of Purefico MedSpa & Therapy's website which is found at <https://www.purefico.com/>. The med spa's owner went on to add that they designed their services around the fact that they believe the body can restore, revive and renew by using the energy within. That's why they derive their services based on the body's ability to supply energy properly throughout it to best function. She says that with the assistance of the med spa's professional and well-trained staff, their clients have been able to make great progress toward restoring their bodies' balance and wellness.

The company owner then went on to discuss the different med spa services that will be available at the new High Point location. This includes such health and wellness services as Bioidentical Hormone Replacement Therapy (BHRT) for men & women, personalized nutrition plans, unique Ozone Therapy Sauna Treatments, and Comprehensive Digestive Stool Analysis. They also offer body sculpting & toning and cosmetic treatments that include Botox and dermal fillers. She mentioned that among their most popular services are their BE SlimNow revolutionary weight loss system, UltraSmooth? plans that help eliminate stubborn fat and cellulite, and UltraSlim Fat Loss Treatment for body contouring. They also offer a lengthy list of skin rejuvenation treatments. That list includes Ultherapy Facelifting Technology, Collagen Red Light Therapy, SkinPen Microneedling, iPeel Facials, and Dermaplaning. All of their services are performed by specialists that are among the best at what they do and they always put the health and welfare of their clients at the forefront of everything that they do.

The new High Point, NC location is already getting rave reviews from those that have experienced its services. Elizabeth Webb stated, "Great atmosphere and great people! I would highly recommend going here for any of your needs!" Eryn Clark proclaimed, "Quality services & awesome employees! Highly recommend Purefico!" Those in High Point and elsewhere in the Piedmont Triad area that would like more information on the health and wellness services that are offered at Purefico MedSpa & Therapy's newest location can visit the dedicated webpage for that center which can be seen at <https://www.purefico.com/high-point-nc/>. They welcome those that have never visited their new location to introduce themselves by filling out the form that's found on their website's homepage.
