Lower Southampton Township, Pennsylvania - December 07, 2021 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Home Cash Guys, a company that serves home sellers in Philadelphia, PA, wants to stress the importance of sellers finding someone in the area whom they can really trust. The company is a local investor who appreciates the area and is focused on helping local homeowners find a way out of their difficult situation with their property. As such, home sellers can be sure that they will get a fair cash offer for their home and that the transaction will be a win for both parties. Greg Yuter from the Home Cash Guys says, "It is easy to find investors offering to buy houses in Philadelphia. But the question is whether you can really trust them to provide you with a fair offer. At Home Cash Guys, we are a local investor familiar with homes in Philadelphia and the surrounding areas and you can expect from us a fair cash offer. We truly believe in respect, compassion, and integrity. Our team was founded to do right by homeowners in the state, and that's why we enjoy meeting the individual needs and challenges of those we work with within the state."

Selling a house fast to the Home Cash Guys only needs a few easy steps. The first step is to fill out an online form on their website. This will require some important details about the property. Those who have any questions can contact them on the phone. The second step is they evaluate the information provided within 12 hours and determine possible ways of developing a fast solution for the home seller. In the third step, they will contact the home seller with several alternatives and provide a fair cash offer or schedule a visit to the property. And if the home seller agrees to one of the options proposed, they will then schedule a closing date. That the company can be trusted is proven by the many five star reviews they have received. For instance, Regina D. gave them five stars on Google and said, "I used Home Cash Guys to sell my home. Let me tell you that it was a very professional experience. They are patient, caring and understanding to each individual homeowner's needs. They took the time to explain the process to me. I learned a lot about homebuying from their representative. Their process is pain saving and effective. Tyler is a pleasure to work with. If you're in the market to sell your home I suggest you contact Home Cash Guys."

Home Cash Guys assures home sellers that they can sell their property in as little as two weeks because they will be purchasing the house directly as an investor. Unlike when home sellers are dealing with a real estate agent, they will not be acting as a middleman who will look for the right buyer. And because the transaction will be in cash, there would be no need to wait for weeks or even months for a bank to approve a financial arrangement to help the buyer fund the purchase.

And the home seller doesn't have to worry if the property is not in the best condition. Typically, a home seller will need to do some cleaning and some repairs to make the home presentable for potential buyers. With the Home Cash Guys, there would be no need to repair or beautify the home because they purchase homes in any condition. And there would be no commissions to pay because they are not a real estate agent. There will be no legal fees, administration fees, or house evaluation charges. They will also handle the transfer and closing expenses.
