November 09, 2015

November 09, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Zombie Cajun, a hot sauce company based out of Spring Hill, TN, is now offering a Zombie Cajun Gift Set just in time for the holiday season. The company produces four different Cajun sauces, all with unique recipes using healthy ingredients such as cayenne pepper, habanero peppers and jalapeno peppers. The team at Zombie Cajun has said that the active ingredient of capsaicin in the peppers causes the body to release natural chemicals called endorphins which provide positive feelings. The capsaicin is also known to stimulate blood flow, increase natural metabolisms, and even help reduce bad cholesterol levels.

The gift set, seen online through the company's official website at ZombieCajunSauce.com, includes all four flavors of hot sauce along with a 100% money back customer satisfaction guarantee. The sampler set makes it easy for individuals to find the one key flavor which they appreciate most, or enjoy all four. Along with this set of sauces comes a paperback copy of a book entitled, "The Zombie Cajun Chronicles: A Time To Run".

Each bottle in the gift pack is a full 6oz bottle, including the original Zombie Cajun, which is a tangy and spicy sauce, The Antidote, which has been described by consumers as being spicier than the original, Garlic, a savory sauce with a garlic bite, and Lagniappe, a mild sauce for those who prefer less heat in their hot sauce.

The gift box can also be purchased through the company's online retail channel at Amazon.com. One satisfied customer who purchased through the Amazon site has said: "Overall, these are tasty hot sauces that will compliment any meal. I was surprised at how good they actually tasted. The box it comes in is also very nice and if you're a huge Zombie fan, you'll love it. Great product, highly recommended."

Those who enjoy the Zombie Cajun experience, or who wish to know more about the company, are encouraged to follow them online at Twitter. Here customers can keep up to date on any new products being released, be first in line for promotions and sales, and interact with the company on a more personal level.
