Zombiedisasterkits.com, a business based in Vancouver, Washington, have recently launched their new disaster free travel toiletry and organizing bag. The kit includes the hanging bag, three food grade bottles of 3 oz (80ml) each, which are TSA compliant for liquids and gels plus 2 Velcro in/out clear bags to put them in. The product has been designed with frequent and urgent travelers in mind. "We don't really believe that zombies are coming and that you will need to make a quick exit," says Jillian Gregg from Zombiedisasterkits.com. "But it is generally better to be safe than sorry. In fact, it may not be zombies that will cause you some worry, but some kind of natural disaster, political instability, or economic collapse as seen in several places in the world today. Or maybe you just travel frequently and want to be able to take something sturdy with you that can pass all the necessary requirements yet carry all the things you require. Our travel kit is exactly what you need." ZombieDisasterKits is committed to bringing people the highest quality products at the best possible prices, thereby enabling people to keep themselves and their family safe no matter what the emergency is. The products have been designed by the team at the company, who are all true globe trotters and preppers, so they know what they are talking about. As can be seen on <http://www.zombiedisasterkits.com/products/disaster-free-travel-bag>, their latest product truly has been designed to be useful and handy in any type of emergency. It is perfect for carrying medication and other such useful supplies, in such a way that it will be allowed through airport security. It also doubles as a regular toiletry bag, and the three bottles could be used for things such as shampoo, conditioner, and shower gel. All products launched by ZombieDisasterKits are designed to keep families safe, while traveling or during day to day life and all profits go to charity. The new travel bag is available for purchase through the company's website or through <http://www.amazon.com/dp/B014TA39DG>. Customers are also encouraged to join the ZClub through the company's website, which will enable them to receive exclusive discounts on products and to be kept up to date with any future developments, travel tips and advice. ###
