Auckland, New Zealand - With large and heavy door models becoming a trend in the market, the need for different sizes of doorstops has prompted a renowned household company SuperiorMaker to innovate on one of its most successful products in the market today. Since its release on Amazon, the new size of door stops from SuperiorMaker has been a major hit. These new big door stops are sized and designed to ensure that larger and heavy doors and doors with a very high ground clearance are securely pinned open.

The rapid success of the big door stop is attributed to its many features. Each rubber big door stop is precisely 1.9 inches high, 2 inches wide and 6.5 inches long, designed to be ideal to hold open all types of doors regardless of the size and ground clearance. With a stylishly trendy design, the big door stops are shown to work on all surfaces without the worry of damaging the flooring.

The big door stops took only a number of weeks to be labelled as a 5-star item in the furniture accessories category on Amazon. On the Amazon rating scale a 5-star rating is the highest and is reserved only for items of very high quality.

According to a representative from SuperiorMaker, "Our door stops are quite unlike the others out there. Our big door stops are scratch resistant and will work on all surfaces with the same results of having the doors securely pinned open or closed. They are made from high quality, cutting edge rubber which is very flexible, thus they will work both inside and outside. They are also made to be very long-lasting."

"These worked as advertised. I needed them to work for tile floors, and they work great! No slippage at all which is impressive because the doors are on heavy springs and are hard to open. I've also used them on linoleum with a perfect result as well as low pile carpet. I highly recommend these as door stops for all surfaces," said Stephen Smith, a verified Amazon customer in his 5-star review.

The new big door stops from SuperiorMaker are currently available on the popular shopping portal Amazon. Each purchase of the big door stops is backed by a 100 percent money back guarantee. Shoppers who purchase will get an added incentive of two free homecare eBooks.
