January 17, 2023 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Toronto Deck and Rail, a branch of the highly successful Winnipeg Deck and Rail and Ottawa Deck and Rail, is excited to announce the launch of their new line of high-quality aluminum railing products. It's a deck and rail company that has been providing excellent service and products to customers in Winnipeg, Manitoba since 2007. Its newer Toronto, Ontario branch is expected to carry on that tradition as it looks to provide Toronto area home and business owners with quality aluminum railing solutions.

The company owner, Matthew Tombs, says, "Aluminum railing products sometimes get overshadowed these days by traditional wood and newer synthetic rail offerings. That's a shame for several reasons and we are happy to be a company that is helping to make aluminum railing products popular again. This is a great thing because aluminum railing systems are a "game changer" when it comes to looks and durability."

Tombs went on to describe some of the company's latest and most popular aluminum railing offerings. A list that includes very functional and aesthetically pleasing aluminum picket railings. The company offers these unique aluminum picket railings in standard, wide, and double-top rail configurations. He added that a favorite of his and many others are their aluminum-encased glass railings. They are safe and good-looking railings that can be used in a variety of settings. The company owner added that these come in a variety of configurations which includes 6MM clear glass, 6MM bronze or grey glass, 10MM topless glass, and privacy glass versions. There is also Toronto Deck and Rail's decorative and sturdy wind walls. Customers can choose from such options for these as privacy panels, privacy glass, and 6MM clear glass. It was also brought up that the company offers such complimentary railing products as grab rails, gates, and tall walls. He went on to mention that all their railing products are made using the highest quality materials so they will look good and stay functional for a long time.

Those that have done business with Toronto Deck and Rail often leave glowing reviews about the company's services. D H stated, "Great value. Excellent quality and fairly easy to assemble. It's a highly professional company too. Many thanks to Kemar Williams for his advice and his availability every step of the way on this project. Overall, we are very happy and would recommend this company to anyone who asks!" Fred Almand wrote, "All aspects of the experience with this company were positive. From start to finish the interaction I had with the staff was also great. I was so pleased from the start of dealing with them that TDR was the only company I contacted about doing the work. Kemai kept me informed and their installers were terrific. I am sure I was not the easiest customer to deal with, but they were very patient with me and explained every step they did. 100% satisfied. The rail looks great."

The company owner says that part of the reason their deck and rail company gets such positive reviews is because of their three core values. This includes offering a variety of railing solutions because they realize every project is unique. They also strive to provide excellent communication during each railing job they take on, and most important of all to be honest about everything they do. Tombs expanded upon the latter by saying, "For us, honesty is the best policy. Customers can expect us to always be upfront about project timelines, stock availability, and installation scheduling. We will make it clear what our areas of expertise are and explain concisely how we can assist our customers. In case of delays or issues in the shipping and installation process, we will let a customer know that information as soon as it becomes apparent."
