

Life Glow Products Now On Twitter

November 27, 2015

November 27, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Life Glow Products, a business in Carson City, NV, has announced that they have recently launched their Twitter account. Through this account, they aim to showcase their various products, as well as encourage conversation between customers. Furthermore, it is an opportunity to share information, product updates, special offers, and more.

"We have joined the Twitter revolution and we're really liking what it can do for us," says Churck Harmon from Life Glow Products. "In a short period of time, we have already built up 199 followers and we feel like we're really connecting with our audience. We can't wait to see who the 200th follower is!"

Life Glow Products has been busy since they first launched on Twitter and they have already posted over 2,000 Tweets. These mainly discuss the wide variety of products that the company offers. These products tend to be beauty- and health-related and include such things as vitamins, probiotics, turmeric and more. They also explain what the benefits of each of these products are applicable to various areas such as overall health, skin and hair health, digestive health and free radical damage, for instance.

The products that Life Glow has released have already been proven to be very popular. "This product works wonders," says Karen Kerr. "I felt better after using this product. My soreness began to subside and the inflammation and pain in my back were reduced. My achy joints weren't achy and stiff anymore. I like that this product is all natural which gives me a break from my regular pain reliever."

With Life Glow Products on Twitter, they hope to be able to reach more customers in terms of them gaining an understanding of which product to take for their specific needs. Some of the company's products have multiple functions and the company is also interested in hearing whether anyone experiences any other benefits from taking the supplements and other products.

The Twitter page is very well laid out and includes full information about Life Glow Products, who they are and what their overall aims are in terms of the health of their customers.

###

For more information about Life Glow Products, contact the company here: Life Glow Products
Chuck Harmon 888-582-6650 chuck@lifeglowproducts.com 2457 Merrit Dr. Carson City, NV 89701

Life Glow Products

Life Glow Products, a division of Charles C Harmon Co LLC, has built it's reputation with high quality products and extreme customer satisfaction.

Website: <http://lifeglowproducts.com>

Email: chuck@lifeglowproducts.com

Phone: 888-582-6650

Powered by PressAdvantage.com