

Orange Personal Injury Attorney Alexander Napolin Explains the Viability of Slip and Fall Lawsuits

March 16, 2023

Orange, California - March 16, 2023 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Alexander Napolin, considered by his clients to be the best wrongful death lawyer Orange has to offer, is helping victims get the help they need following a slip-and-fall accident.

A slip-and-fall claim is a type of liability claim. It falls under personal injury law which covers harm resulting from the wrongful conduct of a person, entity, or business. In such circumstances, the victim has to conclusively prove that the injuries they sustained were the result of another party's negligence.

Slip-and-fall accidents can cause broken bones, shoulder dislocation, spinal cord paralysis, and even traumatic head and brain injuries. Some of the common causes of such accidents are slippery surfaces that haven't been demarcated, obstruction to movement due to poorly maintained stairs, exposed plugs and cables, boxes in store aisles, and more, and poor lighting in areas such as walkways, outside stores, parking lots, and construction sites.

Alexander Napolin has spent years defending the rights of slip-and-fall victims who faced massive medical bills, loss of income, and suffering following their accidents. The Orange personal injury attorney helps his clients evaluate the circumstances surrounding their accident and determines the right course of action if one exists.

Slip-and-fall accident victims have several remedies under the state's personal injury law. The monetary damages are calculated by proving medical expenses and costs of future treatment. Victims can also request money for their pain and suffering. In addition, those affected can also seek punitive damages to punish the party at fault for their gross negligence.

There are a lot of factors that decide the viability of your lawsuit including the merits of the case, the extent of injuries sustained, the cost of litigation, and whether the defendant can compensate you, Alexander says, We also have to consider the statute of limitations which prevents you from bringing a lawsuit if the injury occurred more than two years ago. Special rules, such as mental incapacity or if the plaintiff is a minor, can override the statute of limitations. My recommendation is that you seek an attorney experienced in personal injury immediately to understand whether it is wise to pursue legal action.
