

Tree Service Experts Lexington Partners with Local Wineries for Sustainable Vineyard Management

March 21, 2023

Lexington, Kentucky - March 21, 2023 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Lexington, KY - Tree Service Experts Lexington, a leading provider of tree care services in the Central Kentucky region, has announced a new partnership with local wineries to promote sustainable vineyard management practices. The partnership was founded on a shared commitment to environmental stewardship. It will involve Tree Service Experts Lexington providing expertise in tree care to help ensure that wineries can maintain healthy and productive vineyards.

"We are proud to be partnering with local wineries to support their sustainable practices for vineyard management," said Burton Lanes, CEO of Tree Service Experts Lexington. "At Tree Service Experts Lexington, we share a common goal with our partners ? to improve the environment's health and reduce our impact. This collaboration is an excellent opportunity to demonstrate our commitment to this cause."

Tree Service Experts Lexington will provide its expertise in tree care services to help local wineries optimize their vineyard management practices. These services include trimming and pruning trees, controlling plant pests, and removing dead or diseased branches and vines. In addition, Tree Service Experts Lexington will provide essential advice on maximizing water conservation and using organic fertilizers and pesticides. "The health of the environment is paramount when it comes to successful vineyard management," said Lanes. "By working with local wineries, we can ensure that their vineyards are well maintained and optimized for maximum productivity while protecting the land from harm. We are proud to be part of this important effort."

This partnership is just one of many initiatives Tree Service Experts Lexington is undertaking to improve the environment. The company also promotes recycled materials, energy efficiency, and water conservation. In addition, Tree Service Experts Lexington has certified arborists on staff dedicated to protecting trees from diseases and pests.

"Sustainability is at the heart of our mission here at Tree Service Experts Lexington," said Lanes. "We believe that it is our responsibility as stewards of the environment to protect natural resources and minimize the negative impacts of development and human activity. Our partnership with local wineries is one way we are helping to ensure that our environment remains healthy and vibrant for future generations."
