Mighty Dog Roofing of Southwest Houston is well-known for leveraging advanced technology. For instance, also offer the use of the Curb Appeal Visualizer, which is a software that runs on a smartphone or mobile device. This tool enables the client to visualize how the home would look like when using a particular paint color for the roof, a specific roof style, a certain roofing material, and more. The client will then be able to decide on the color of paint to use, the kind of roofing material to use, and other details before giving the signal to start the roofing project.

Their Watchdog Maintenance service is another important aspect of their service. This ensures that any minor issues can be fixed as early as possible so these won't get worse and become a major issue in the future. They provide yearly inspections of the roof and other elements of the home's exterior and provide reports on these inspections that are included in the personal storage for information involving each customer. They will also compare these annual inspection reports to determine the trend of the roof's condition, which can be used for making a good prediction as to how long the roof will last, allowing the homeowner to be prepared for the major expense of a roof replacement.

Mighty Dog Roofing also provides the Customer Vault, which is a personal storage for each client. It is a special storage of information about the roof of each client. This enables the contractor and the client to easily get the information they need about the roof. This vault contains pictures, videos, maintenance reports, various materials and products used, roofing projects completed, warranties, and more. All of the information stored in the Customer Vault are relevant to the condition of the roof and can be referred to by both Mighty Dog Roofing and the homeowner whenever a roofing repair or replacement is being planned.
