Lexington, KY ? Lexington Tree Experts, a leading tree care company in Lexington, Kentucky, is branching out into the world of literature with a curated collection of tree-themed books. This unique project, dubbed the "Literary Arboretum," is designed to celebrate trees' beauty, wonder, and importance through the written word.

Emmy Jessica, CEO of Lexington Tree Experts, explains the inspiration behind the project: "Trees have always been a source of fascination and inspiration for writers, poets, and artists throughout history. We wanted to create a collection that showcases the rich literary heritage of trees and encourages people to explore the diverse ways trees have been celebrated in literature."

The Literary Arboretum features a wide range of genres, including poetry, essays, fiction, and non-fiction, all centered around trees and the natural world. The collection is designed to appeal to readers of all ages and interests, with selections ranging from classic works of literature to contemporary bestsellers.

According to Jessica, the Literary Arboretum is not just a celebration of trees in literature but also a way to connect people with the natural world: "In today's fast-paced, technology-driven society, it's easy to lose touch with nature. We hope that by exploring the rich literary world of trees, people will be inspired to spend more time outdoors and develop a deeper appreciation for the beauty and importance of trees in our lives."

In addition to curating the Literary Arboretum, Lexington Tree Experts is working to promote tree-themed literature through community events and initiatives. The company plans to host book clubs, author talks, and poetry readings, as well as partner with local libraries, schools, and environmental organizations to share their collection with a broader audience.

Jessica emphasizes the importance of fostering a love of reading and nature in the community: "By organizing events and collaborating with local institutions, we aim to create a vibrant literary community that celebrates the natural world and encourages people to engage with both books and trees in meaningful ways."

The Literary Arboretum also complements Lexington Tree Experts' ongoing commitment to providing exceptional tree care services. With a team of certified arborists and tree care specialists, the company offers a comprehensive range of services, including tree planting, pruning, removal, and disease management.

Jessica explains how the Literary Arboretum aligns with the company's core values: "At Lexington Tree Experts, we are passionate about trees and their many benefits, from providing shade and clean air to beautifying our communities. The Literary Arboretum is an extension of this passion, allowing us to share our love of trees with the community in a new and engaging way."
