Online pet pharmacy Scriptly is offering Australian pet lovers the over-the-counter pet meds they need to ensure their furry friends stay healthy, energetic, and enthusiastic all day.

With years of experience in the pet pharmaceutical industry, the Australian-owned and operated company stocks OTC meds for worm and flea treatment for cats & dogs. The company's comprehensive online inventory includes products from trusted brands such as Advantage Serestro, Advocate, Bravecto, Capstar, Comfortis Plus, Frontline, Nexgard, Simparica, and more.

The company's dedication to delivering high-quality pet medications is evident in its commitment to working with vets and other pet professionals, to handpick the products offered on its online store. Customers can also rely on Scriptly's vet-backed pet care advice to make the right decision for their furry friend's health. The company only supplies veterinary products approved for sale in Australia by the APVMA (Australian Pesticides and Veterinary Medicines Authority), giving customers peace of mind knowing that they can trust the safety and efficacy of its medicines.

"Our mission is to make pet care as simple and stress-free as possible," says the spokesperson for Scriptly. "Our easy-to-use and intuitive website is finetuned to help you quickly find the medicines you need for your prized fur ball to be happy and healthy. You will find the same high-quality pet products that you can buy from your local vet in our store, at an even better price and with convenient online delivery so that they reach you when your pets need them the most. Visit our website today and join the Scriptly family with our membership program to earn reward points on your purchases."

Pet owners shopping for products for worm treatment for cats & dogs have several options to choose from. For instance, Scriptly offers the Nexgard Spectra chewables which are specifically formulated to keep small, medium, and large dogs who are at least 8 weeks old protected from the most common parasites including ticks, fleas, mites, and tapeworms.

Dog owners can also opt for the Simparica Trio chews that provide a month of protection from parasites. Simparica Trio starts killing off fleas and brown ticks within just four hours, prevents further environmental infestations by stopping adult fleas from laying eggs in new locations, and protects against deadly paralysis tick bites.

For pets who have been swarmed by fleas, Scriptly offers the Capstar 11 mg oral flea tablets for cats and small dogs. Suitable for cats and dogs over 4 weeks old, including if they are pregnant, they can be used in combination with other flea treatments.

Pet owners who want to take a more direct approach can also go for a 250 ml or 100 ml bottle of Frontline Spray which controls flea allergy dermatitis. The spray must be applied every 12 weeks for dogs and every 8 weeks for cats to protect them from adult fleas. For protection against ticks, the fast-acting spray can be applied every 3 weeks for dogs and monthly for cats.

Scriptly also has big plans to soon begin offering prescription pet medicines for customers with its online eScript service. Customers will be able to use a photo of a written prescription from their vet, use a script saved on file, or even request a new eScript and have it issued online. Requested eScripts will get directly delivered to the customer's inbox within 24 hours. Scriptly will even match its customers' orders with scripts on file to allow them to set up auto-repeats so that they never run out.

Whether you choose to get your script from your local vet or request it online on our website, the spokesperson says, you will be able to get all the prescription medicines for your pet on our online store, with the same great prices and convenience that our customers enjoy now.

Readers are urged to follow Scriptly on social media or sign up for its newsletter to get notified when it starts offering prescription medicines with eScripts.
