Pacific Coast Facial Plastic Surgery, based in Laguna Niguel, CA, is happy to announce they are offering the Restylane Eyelight, which is a new injectable filler. This injectable dermal filler offers a solution for tired-looking eyes, with under-eye hollows and dark shadows. This tired appearance usually results from a lack of volume under the eyes, and the Restylane Eyelight helps add volume and brighten the eyes. This plastic surgery clinic, PCFPS, is distinctive from similar practices in the area because its founder, Dr. Jacob Boeckmann, is an award-winning facial plastic and reconstructive surgeon who has focused on providing facelifts, eyelid surgery, and rhinoplasty. He is also an expert at facial dermal fillers and injectables.

Restylane Eyelight is a new injectable filler that has become available in the facial plastic surgery market. It has been noted to be the most long-lasting dermal filler for the eyes on the market, lasting up to 12 months. It is a filler specifically designed for use in the sensitive and delicate under-eye area. Its formula, which is based on hyaluronic acid, is capable of restoring volume in the under-eye area, smoothing the tear trough, and rejuvenating the patient's overall facial appearance. Unlike other fillers, Restylane Eyelight is in the form of a gentle, lower-viscosity gel, which means it can integrate smoothly into the skin, providing that desired natural look and feel.

In the Laguna Niguel area, the facial plastic surgery to go for procedures like the Restylane Eyelight eye filler, is the Pacific Coast Facial Plastic Surgery. This is because Dr. Boeckmann is double board certified by the American Board of Facial Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery and the American Board of Otolaryngology-Head and Neck Surgery. Being a board-certified facial plastic surgeon means that Dr. Boeckmann had completed an internship in General Surgery and this was followed by four years of ACGME-approved residency in Otolaryngology-Head & Neck Surgery. During this training, Dr. Boeckmann focused particularly on anatomy, medical conditions and the treatment provided for the face, head, and neck. During this critical period, extensive training is focused on plastic and reconstructive surgery. At the end of the residency training program, the surgeon becomes board eligible, by the American Board of Medical Subspecialties, to provide Head & Neck Surgery including Facial Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery. To become board-certified, the surgeon has to pass a rigorous two-day oral and written exams, undergo peer review of at least 100 facial plastic surgery cases over two years, get the proper medical licensing, and comply with the ABFPRS code of ethics.

Dr. Jacob Boeckmann is also the recipient of several awards. These include the: 2020 Southern California Super Doctors, and the Southern California Super Doctor Rising Star award for the years 2016, 2017, and 2018.

Pacific Coast Facial Plastic Surgery was established by Dr. Jacob Boeckmann in 2019. Dr. Boeckmann is a double-certified facial plastic and reconstructive surgeon. He specializes in facelifts, brow lifts, upper eyelid surgery, neck lifts, rhinoplasty, fat transfer, lower eyelid surgery, reconstructive surgery (MOHS surgery and scar revision surgery), and ear surgery (otoplasty/ear lobe repair). He also specializes in Kybella double-chin treatment, Botox, non-surgical rhinoplasty, liquid facelifts, needleless injections, and lip fillers.
