Phoenix, AZ - Vision Aircraft Records, a software and service company devoted to digitizing aircraft records, proudly announces its new status as the primary sponsor for The Foundation for Business Aircraft Records Excellence (known as BAR.)

Mark Leeper, CEO at Vision Aircraft Records, commented, "Improving the state of aircraft recordkeeping is in the interest of everyone in the industry - whether they are a Vision customer or not; and whether they digitize their logbooks or not. Every technician, broker, insurance agent and aircraft owner benefits from accurate and clear records."

The BAR Foundation is an industry-specific non-profit corporation that has produced a series of courses designed specifically for aircraft maintenance personnel that emphasizes record-keeping best practices in the industry.

Two large Part 135 operators have been approved by the FAA to operate without using paper records in June of 2023.

They will use an entirely digital record keeping system provided and supported by Vision Aircraft Records utilizing the SMART Logbook System (Secured Managed Aircraft Records Technology).

Vision Aircraft Records can supply any Part 135 operator or certificate holder with the generic language to apply for the same approval. Vision has the capability to onboard any operator in the United States in a single business day.

"This will open the floodgates for anyone in business aviation industry who wishes to take advantage of an entirely digital business model," said Mark Leeper. "This is a game changer to finally do away with the grief of paper. It will save an endless amount of money and time for ALL operators, including Part 91, Part 135, and others."

Vision Aircraft Records is prepared to provide any Part 135 operator or certificate holder with the necessary language to seek similar approvals from the FAA. Moreover, Vision has the capability to onboard any operator within the United States in one business day.

"We're delighted to have the support of Vision Aircraft Records to improve the state of recordkeeping in the industry," said Larry Hinebaugh, Founder of BAR. "We know that our courses will raise the status, professionalism and compensation in the industry as owners, operators, DOMs and others come to rely on and appreciate the benefits of great aircraft recordkeeping."

BAR's online courses cover a wide range of topics, including the importance of aircraft records, maintenance records and documentation, logbook entries, certificates of airworthiness, data approval, and much more. The courses draw on information from the Aircraft Maintenance Technician Handbook, the Airman Certification Standards, and the real-world experience of BAR's team of maintenance professionals with over 200 years of combined experience in business aircraft maintenance and operations.
