Australia-based online pet pharmacy Scriptly is offering a variety of pet meds from a range of trusted brands for competitive prices.

Scriptly offers its customers across Australia the same high-quality products that they will find at their vets but at a much better price and with a more convenient online delivery service. The company's collection of pet meds is highly curated with the recommendations of vets and other pet professionals giving customers absolute confidence in the quality of its products and services. Scriptly only supplies veterinary products that are approved for sale in Australia by the APVMA (Australian Pesticides and Veterinary Medicines Authority).

The pet meds brands that the Australian online pet pharmacy offers customers are Advantage, Bravecto, Capstar, Frontline, NexGard, and many more. It makes available products for both cats and dogs, giving pet owners looking for meds for their furry friends a one-stop shop to rely on. The products can be filtered based on the type of condition that needs to be addressed including fleas & ticks or worms, and the size of the pet's breed including small, medium, large, and giant.

One of its bestselling products is Advantage Seresto for dogs over 8kg. The flea and tick collar is odorless and water-resistant and will keep the pooch protected from fleas and ticks for 8 months and 4 months respectively. It has received several 5-star reviews on the Scriptly website praising both the product quality and the company's delivery process. Readers can visit <https://scriptly.com.au/collections/fleas-tick-treatment-for-dogs> to browse through more flea and tick treatments for dogs.

Another popular item is the Capstar 11mg Cats/Small Dog Blue 6-tab. The oral flea tablets are made for cats and small dogs weighing between 0.5kg and 11kg and are suitable if they are over 4 weeks of age, including if they are pregnant. They can be used in combination with other monthly flea treatments. The listing recommends administering one tablet on any day when fleas are evident on the pet and repeating on any subsequent day when the same occurs.

Finally, Scriptly customers have also picked the Nexgard Spectra 15.1-30kg 6-Pack as a favorite. The monthly chew is designed to give dogs the most complete protection from parasites. Specially formulated for medium dogs between 15.1 and 30kg and that are at least 8 weeks old, it is fast-acting and has a great flavor that dogs love. The recommended dosage is one 4g chewable. The spokesperson for Scriptly talks about its extensive product range by saying, "We have handpicked meds selected under the watchful eye of veterinary doctors and pet professionals who are intimately involved with caring for cats and dogs in their everyday lives. The large selection of brands and meds at different price points gives you an exhaustive choice to experiment with what works best for your furry friend. These high-quality products are coupled with seamless ordering and delivery to make caring for your pet as easy as it can ever be."

Customers can order Scriptly's products once or they can even set up a subscription to keep themselves stocked. The subscription makes it easy for pet owners to look out for their pet's health and well-being without having to purchase the meds separately every month. Scriptly customers can buy products every one, three, or six months with a discount on the base price. The subscription is no-obligation and customers can modify or cancel it anytime.

Scriptly is also preparing to launch its highly awaited eScript service which allows customers to fill pet prescriptions online. The six-step process starts with snapping a photo of the prescription and uploading the image to Scriptly. Customers can also request a script or directly add a product to the cart if they have a script saved on file. Then, it is as simple as ordering online and reordering when the pet meds start to get low.
