Baltimore Plastic and Cosmetic Surgery Center, based in Baltimore, MD, is proud to announce that they now also offer tummy tuck procedures. While this has been on offer for only a short period of time, the procedure is already proving very popular, particularly because of the expertise of the doctors at the clinic. Full details are available through <http://www.baltimoreplasticsurgery.com/>.

"We are very happy to now offer the tummy tuck," says Dr. Jeffrey Schreiber from Baltimore Plastic and Cosmetic Surgery Center. "It is a popular procedure that has become increasingly important in the world of cosmetic surgery, particularly because there is an increased number of people who have experienced significant weight loss following gastric surgery. They are ideal candidates for this procedure, as are others. We are happy to see that our clinic is already becoming a clinic of choice for those who are looking to have a tummy tuck."

Dr. Jeffrey Schreiber is a highly educated surgeon who has worked for various prominent medical centers across Baltimore and beyond. He is fully Board certified and is committed to delivering the highest possible quality care. He understands that plastic surgery is a very personal choice, as people have different expectations in terms of what they want to look like. As such, he approaches each patient as an individual, trying to find the treatment that works best for that particular person.

The new tummy tuck procedure is part of the full body contouring service that the clinic offers. These services have all been very positively reviewed by a wealth of different patients. "The entire staff is wonderful but I must say Dr. Schreiber is the absolute best," says Pamela H. "His bedside manner is perfect; he is patient, kind, and incredibly down-to-earth. He does not have an attitude of superiority and I feel that is so important. Last, but definitely not least, his skill is amazing. I was so pleased with the work he did the first time I came back for another round. He has allowed me to be my best self. After so many years of being unhappy with my body I now look like I feel."
