Honolulu Plastic Surgery, a plastic surgery practice in Honolulu, Hawaii, has released new updates on the blepharoplasty procedure.

While respected plastic surgeons Honolulu offer a variety of plastic and cosmetic services, blepharoplasty is recently becoming a popular and favorite procedure. Plastic surgeons want to make sure that people have a greater understanding of what the procedure is and who can benefit from it.

"The blepharoplasty, or eyelid surgery, is one of our most popular procedures," says Dr. Randy Wong from Honolulu Plastic Surgery. "In fact, it has virtually replaced the old face lift, which is now very rarely done. It has the ability to make people look younger and fresher very quickly, as well as giving them a generally more improved appearance. We are happy to see that people are coming to us to have this procedure completed and that they trust our expertise."

When it comes to blepharoplasty Honolulu is one of the most logical locations to have it completed. This is due to the high levels of sunshine in this area, which has a significant effect on people's skin. The strong UV rays to which people are exposed on a daily basis are causing people to age prematurely, something that is often seen in the forehead and eyes first. It is also for this reason that the procedure is so popular and so important for the community as a whole.

The clinic is one of the most respected clinics on the island and has received a wealth of positive reviews. "My eyes were baggy and saggy and I felt like it really affected my vision as well," says Peter K. "While that may have been psychosomatic, it is a fact that it was affecting my confidence and I just didn't feel good about how I looked anymore. I was so happy to come across Dr. Wong and book in for eyelid surgery. He explained everything in great detail and the results were exactly as he said they would be. 100% recommend."

For those who are interested in having a blepharoplasty, Honolulu Plastic Surgery encourages them to book in for a consultation through the clinic's website.
