July 01, 2024

AVENTURA, FL - July 01, 2024 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Artlist, a renowned creative technology company, has just introduced an exciting new AI voiceover feature, significantly enhancing its subscription service. This update includes top-notch voiceovers, marking a notable advancement in video creation. Vitaliy Lano, founder of IMHO Reviews, commented on the significance of this news, highlighting the transformative potential it holds for content creators.

The new voiceover feature includes a total of thirty-five voices, comprising 18 male and 17 female options. The voices are of exceptional quality. Lano stated, "Artlist's new voiceovers are a game-changer for creators looking for high-quality audio solutions."

Subscribers can access these voiceovers at a competitive price of $11.99 per month, billed annually at $144. The subscription provides 50,000 credits per month, equating to approximately one hour of voiceover. However, there is no option for a monthly payment plan available. The voices come with adjustable emotional range settings, allowing for either flat or expressive tones, and they boast high fidelity, ensuring a close resemblance to the original voice. This integration, as Lano discussed, offers incredible value, enhancing the overall subscription package.

Artlist's new AI voiceover feature included style boost options that further enhance the quality and reach of the voiceovers. The feature's addition to Artlist Max comes at no extra cost to existing subscribers, significantly boosting the value of their subscription. This advancement not only simplifies billing for Artlist Max users but also enriches their creative toolkit. The Artlist Max plan is the company's most popular subscription option that includes music, SFX, footage, video templates, plugins, image and video editing app, and an unlimited sync license that covers all social platforms, websites, paid ads, clients' works, broadcasts, and more.

The AI voiceover feature is poised to revolutionize filmmaking by providing time-saving and workflow efficiency advantages. Filmmakers can quickly generate high-quality voiceovers, streamlining both pre-production and post-production processes. The diverse range of voices offers creative flexibility, allowing for various project needs to be met with ease. Lano commented, "Artlist's AI voiceover feature streamlines the production process, allowing filmmakers to focus more on their creative vision."

The practical applications of these voiceovers extend to pre-planning interviews and creative planning, where they serve as a valuable tool for both the creative and logistical aspects of filmmaking. "The versatility of these voiceovers provides a valuable tool for both the creative and logistical aspects of filmmaking," added Lano.

When compared to competitors like ElevenLabs and Envato Elements, IMHO Reviews argues that Artlist stands out due to its unique positioning and value. The quality of Artlist's voices is on par with, if not superior to, those of ElevenLabs. Although ElevenLabs offers a larger quantity of voices, Artlist's voices maintain a high level of emotional range and human touch. "ElevenLabs often consumes twice the credits for high-quality voices, making their pricing less favorable. Meanwhile, Artlist strikes a balance between quality and affordability, setting a new standard in the industry," shared Lano.

According to IMHO Reviews, Artlist's new AI voiceover feature brings numerous benefits and has the potential to significantly impact the filmmaking industry. This update enhances creative flexibility, efficiency, and overall production quality. Lano concluded, "With this update, Artlist continues to push the boundaries of what's possible in video production."
