July 10, 2024

Bozeman, Montana - July 10, 2024 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Mountain Heating and Cooling, a trusted HVAC contractor renowned for its expertise in ductless mini split heat pumps, has been honored by the Ductless Directory as a leading Ductless HVAC Contractor in Bozeman Montana and Gallatin Valley. This prestigious acknowledgment showcases Mountain Heating's commitment to high-efficiency heating and cooling solutions, particularly through the adoption of Mitsubishi Electric Cooling & Heating products. Their profile is now visible on the Ductless Directory's website, providing prospective clients a detailed overview of their services and direct communication channels.

For over forty years, Mountain Heating and Cooling has reliably served Bozeman and the entire Gallatin Valley with pride. The company's designation as an approved Mitsubishi Contractor highlights their excellence in deploying Mitsubishi's energy-efficient ductless systems. Their appearance in the directory underscores their dedication to quality service and customer satisfaction, enhancing consumers' ability to identify the most proficient and reliable Ductless Mini Split HVAC Contractor in Bozeman MT.

Corey Johnson, President of Mountain Heating and Cooling, shared his thoughts on this achievement, stating, "Consumers think they can hire anyone to install a ductless... nothing could be further from the truth! It's not the equipment; it's the installation of the equipment that is important. Most issues that consumers report can be traced back to an improper installation which is why choosing the right Ductless HVAC contractor is so important so that consumers can enjoy the full benefits of a ductless system.?"

Mountain Heating and Cooling has been serving the Bozeman area since 1977. Corky and Lois Johnson opened the company with a commitment to providing customized comfort and safety solutions for homes and businesses. In 2011, their son Corey and his wife Meredith continued the family business tradition, bringing Corey's experience as a licensed architect to complement the company's focus on aesthetic design, energy conservation, and building systems design.

Corey Johnson added, "We have experience on our side. As ductless becomes more popular, it attracts more contractors, many of whom lack the training required for a safe and successful installation. Consumers beware because not all contractors are created equal. Installing ductless requires skill, knowledge, and experience matters when it comes to a ductless mini split installation."

The Ductless Directory is a nationally recognized consumer resource designed to help consumers choose a reputable contractors experienced in ductless mini split system installation. Its aim is to elevate experts capable of offering prime equipment and ensuring its correct installment to achieve optimum functionality and durability.

Michelle LaFrance, Founder of the Ductless Directory, expressed her excitement regarding Mountain Heating's listing, stating, "We vet every contractor that comes into the program. I know how important the contractor is to the consumer experience. I chose Mountain Heating because I know the integrity of this company and the quality of work that they do."

Mountain Heating and Cooling's entry in the Ductless Directory empowers them to broadcast their comprehensive range of services. This includes not just the setup of ductless mini splits but also in-depth maintenance and repair solutions, offering customers in Bozeman and the Gallatin Valley a convenient resource for contacting Mountain Heating's specialists for their heating and cooling requirements.

Mountain Heating and Cooling recommends top-quality ductless systems and is proud to offer Mitsubishi Mini Splits, ensuring their customers receive the best in energy-efficient heating and cooling solutions. They also assist customers with financing options making it easier for homeowners to invest in modern, efficient HVAC systems.

Their technicians are rigorously trained and certified ensuring that each installation meets the highest standards of craftsmanship and reliability. The company's "white glove" commitment to excellence guarantees that every project is handled with the utmost care and professionalism.
