August 30, 2024 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Express Packaging, a leading provider of reliable packaging solutions, proudly celebrates its 45th anniversary, marking nearly half a century of excellence in serving businesses across various industries.

For 45 years, Express Packaging has built a reputation for delivering high-quality packaging options tailored to meet the unique needs of its clients. The company's commitment to innovation, customer satisfaction, and sustainable practices has been central to its continued success.

"Our journey over the past four and a half decades has been driven by our dedication to meeting the packaging needs of our clients," said Vice President Mike Reardon Sr. "This milestone reflects the trust our customers have placed in us and our relentless focus on delivering reliable and efficient packaging solutions."

Express Packaging offers a diverse range of products, from durable shipping cartons to detailed retail packaging, all designed to meet the evolving demands of its clients. Their offerings include:

Custom Boxes

Tailored to client specifications, Express Packaging utilizes cutting-edge technology to manufacture corrugated boxes in various styles, sizes, and quantities.

Stock Boxes

A full inventory of regular-slotted containers (RSC), die-cut (D/C), and full-overlap (FOL) containers are readily available for fast shipping.

Corrugated Cardboard Boxes

Durable and customizable, these boxes ensure products are well-protected during shipping and delivered in perfect condition

The company's streamlined operations ensure that every phase, from design to delivery, is executed with precision and care.

In addition to its commitment to quality and reliability, Express Packaging has made significant strides in sustainability. The company has integrated eco-friendly materials and processes into its operations, reducing environmental impact while maintaining high standards of product performance.

"Our ability to adapt to industry changes and technological advancements has been key to our longevity," said Reardon. "As we look to the future, we remain committed to upholding the high standards that have defined Express Packaging for the past 45 years and continuing to innovate for the next generation."

As the company celebrates this significant milestone, Express Packaging is focused on further strengthening its position as a trusted partner for businesses seeking dependable and innovative packaging solutions.
