Seattle, WA ? Dr. Aparna Baheti, a partner at Sound Vascular & Vein in Seattle, WA, recently took the stage at the renowned VIVA (Vascular Interventional Advances) conference in Las Vegas. As part of the panel discussion titled "Strategies on the Frontline," Dr. Baheti shared insights into advanced treatment techniques, including Retrograde Tibial Access, a specialized procedure for managing complex vascular cases and improving patient outcomes in challenging conditions. This innovative approach has been a game-changer for patients with Peripheral Artery Disease (PAD) and other advanced vascular conditions, offering new hope for better treatment options, especially for patients who may not have had success with traditional methods.

VIVA 2024 is widely regarded as one of the premier events in endovascular medicine, drawing global experts to discuss innovations, research, and best practices. The conference features an impressive agenda, including panels, workshops, and case studies that spotlight groundbreaking advancements in vascular care. By participating in this event, Dr. Baheti joined a distinguished lineup of thought leaders committed to pushing the field forward and expanding treatment options for vascular patients. Dr. Baheti?s contributions to the "Strategies on the Frontline" panel emphasized the importance of collaboration and innovation in tackling complex vascular challenges, further showcasing her dedication to advancing patient-centered treatment.

"It's an honor to contribute to such an influential event alongside esteemed colleagues dedicated to advancing vascular care," said Dr. Baheti. "Sharing insights and discussing challenging cases reinforces our commitment at Sound Vascular & Vein to provide innovative, minimally invasive treatments that improve the lives of our patients. I am grateful for the opportunity to learn from and contribute to a community that shares a common goal: enhancing vascular care across all settings."

Dr. Baheti's expertise extends beyond the conference stage. As a co-host of The BackTable Podcast, she helps bridge the gap between cutting-edge medical advancements and everyday clinical practice. The podcast serves as a platform for leading voices in interventional radiology to share knowledge, foster collaboration, and explore the latest developments in vascular and endovascular care. Through her podcast work, Dr. Baheti connects patients and practitioners alike with vital insights into advanced procedures and innovations. Dr. Baheti's presence at VIVA underscores her leadership and dedication to expanding access to innovative, minimally invasive procedures.
