Specialty Flooring Inc., located in Fontana, California, has introduced a new line of eco-friendly flooring options. This family-owned business, known for its quality work with concrete, epoxy, and specialized flooring, is expanding to include sustainable materials. These new options feature reclaimed wood, bamboo, and cork, which are known for being renewable and durable. More details about their offerings can be found on the Specialty Flooring Fontana CA website.

This shift to eco-friendly materials is a big step for Specialty Flooring Inc. in its mission to adopt more sustainable practices. Roberto Acevedo, the CEO, shared his thoughts on this transition: "Our customers are increasingly valuing eco-friendly solutions, and this expansion aligns perfectly with those values," he said. "This new line also represents our commitment to reducing environmental impact while maintaining the high standards of quality our clients expect."

To make sure these materials are truly sustainable, Specialty Flooring Inc. has carefully developed a supply chain that prioritizes responsible sourcing. The company works only with suppliers who share their commitment to the environment, setting a benchmark in the industry.

The company provides a wide range of services to meet industrial and commercial needs. Concrete flooring is one area where they excel, using techniques like polishing, staining, and sealing to enhance floor surfaces. These methods significantly improve floor quality, delivering results that last. You can explore their specialized services further on the Specialty Flooring Fontana CA website which elaborates on their concrete and epoxy flooring processes.

Specialty Flooring Inc. also specializes in epoxy flooring, known for its resistance to chemicals and stains while offering a visually appealing finish. This service is ideal for spaces like labs, cafeterias, and restrooms where durability and easy maintenance are essential. The company's services include fast-drying and heavy-duty options for high-performance industrial settings, providing both protection and sustainability.

Another key part of their offering is their meticulous floor preparation process. Techniques such as shot blasting and diamond grinding are used to create a rough, porous surface. This preparation allows epoxy primers to deeply penetrate the concrete, ensuring a durable, long-lasting finish. According to Roberto Acevedo, "Floor preparation is a crucial step that cannot be overlooked. It's about ensuring that the investment in flooring provides the value and performance our clients expect."

By adding eco-friendly materials to their offerings, Specialty Flooring Inc. is solidifying its reputation as a leader in sustainable practices. This new approach integrates eco-friendly solutions into their main services, giving customers more options to help conserve natural resources.
