Sharon, a recent patient, shared her heartfelt experience: "When I first arrived at Moment of Clarity, the first thing I noticed is how nice the property is. It is really big, and even with three houses, there is a lot of outdoor space to hang out with friends or find some alone time. The houses are professionally decorated, so they are really cute, and there are only two people to a room with no bunk beds. Also, the staff members are caring and thoughtful, as are the professional group facilitators. The groups are interesting and diverse and offer useful information to help us understand addiction. Overall, Moment of Clarity is a great treatment center no matter what stage of recovery you are in."
