February 02, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Rooter Hero Plumbing of Ventura County, located in Moorpark, CA, is proud to announce that they now offer hydro-jetting technology for residential drain cleaning purposes. Some drainage problems are not easily solved by snaking or using plumbing-safe chemical drain cleaners. Hydro-jetting technology is an advanced process that is far more beneficial for homeowners struggling with clogged drains, blocked toilets, and even congested sewer lines.

Jessica Perrault, the spokesperson for Rooter Hero Plumbing of Ventura County, says: "Homeowners rely on us to keep their bathroom and kitchen drains clean and their sewer drains clear. Our hydro-jetting system uses high-pressure water jets to clean out the dirt and debris that can build up in those drains with daily use. Things like hair, food, shampoo, soap and an untold number of other things can end up in the drains and pipes in your home and cause impassable clogs. We prevent this from happening with our hydro-jet drain and sewer cleaning services."

Rooter Hero Plumbing is one of the first companies that started offering hydro-jetting in Ventura County. Although other companies may include hydro-jetting as part of their services, their plumbers may not undergo the same training that is required of Rooter Hero Plumbing plumbers. RHP plumbers know how to use the technology to reap the most benefits while protecting homeowners pipes and keeping prices affordable.

Homeowners are pleased with the effectiveness of this drain cleaning method and praise the company for its commitment to quality results at budget-friendly prices. "We called Rooter Hero Plumbing on a Sunday and our plumber arrived in a timely manner," says Leane P., of Canoga Park. "Not only did we get our main line cleared quickly, but there wasn't an extra charge for weekend service. This local company helped us avert disaster and keep more money in our pockets at the end of the day."
