

Mindvalley's Manifesting Summit Sells Out In-Person Tickets; Virtual Entry Still Open

May 16, 2025

AVENTURA, FL - May 16, 2025 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Vitaliy Lano, owner of IMHO Reviews, has noted that the in-person tickets to Mindvalley's Manifesting Summit 2025 have now sold out. With over 11,072 participants already confirmed, the upcoming event that will be held in person in Los Angeles or on Zoom on May 17-18 is expected to draw significant attention as one of the largest gatherings of its kind focused on manifestation practices and personal transformation.

Virtual participation remains an option. Lano stated, "Just because the physical seats are gone doesn't mean the transformation is. The virtual doors are wide open." For $29, participants from across the globe can tap into the same frequency-shifting experience that will unfold live in LA, all from the comfort of their homes.

With less than 24 hours left until the event, this is the final call to secure virtual access to the summit. Mindvalley has confirmed that only a few virtual tickets remain. "This is the last opportunity to join the largest manifestation-focused event of the year," Lano added.

Virtual tickets come with full access to the two-day livestream, a private Zoom room with a global chat community, live Q&A sessions with Vishen Lakhiani on both days, and a re-telecast option to accommodate EU and Asia-friendly time zones. The experience is designed not to feel like a passive livestream, but a real energetic immersion. "You're not just watching," Lano expressed. "You're in the field."

IMHO Reviews team is treating the Manifesting Summit with serious attention. This attention isn't driven by celebrity appeal, although the roster includes Vishen Lakhiani, Roxie Nafousi, Sonia Choquette, Regan Hillyer, Adriana Gallardo, David Ghiyam, Anodea Judith, and even Gwyneth Paltrow and Dr. Joe Dispenza. It's because the focus isn't just on "thinking positive." It's about practical energy recalibration and grounded identity work.

"People spend years vision boarding, journaling, meditating, and wondering why nothing changes," Lano explained. "Mindvalley is taking a different route: alignment over wishing. Identity over daydreaming."

The agenda has now been made public, revealing a well-structured, high-value weekend that mixes embodiment sessions, energetic alignment, practical teachings, and intimate talks from some of the most followed voices in personal transformation.

Saturday, May 17, is dedicated to building the manifestation foundations. Sessions include teachings on conscious luck, intuitive clarity, and energetic alignment. Notable appearances include Vishen Lakhiani's breakdown on how to "get lucky" in life and work, Roxie Nafousi's 7-step life framework, and a rare live discussion with Gwyneth Paltrow on manifesting through soulful presence.

Sunday, May 18, is focused on integration and acceleration. Attendees will learn techniques for collapsing time between desire and reality, attracting wealth through energy work, and activating the subconscious for rapid transformation. David Ghiyam, John Lee, Regan Hillyer, and Vishen return, culminating in a guided session from Dr. Joe Dispenza designed to synchronize the brain, body, and energetic field.

"This isn't centered around passive consumption of expert advice," Lano commented. "It's about turning the dial inside you. Making changes that stay."

Lano has personally reviewed hundreds of personal development programs and events over the last decade, many of which promise transformation and leave people disappointed. He sees Mindvalley as one standing apart.

"What makes this different? The integration," he expressed. "You don't just watch and forget. You recalibrate as it happens. It's a somatic shift, not just a mental idea."
