March 10, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

The Longview, WA office of Express Employment Professionals is proud to announce that they were featured in the 100 Best Companies to Work for in Oregon and Southwest Washington. This was announced at an event on March 3rd, 2016, organized by the Oregon Business Magazine. The award is a recognition of the hard work and dedication that everyone at the agency is committed to.

Lisa Straughan, owner of Express Employment, says: "Our team, and many others, worked very hard for this recognition and now all Express Offices in Southwest Washington and Oregon have been ranked #2 of 100 Best Companies to work for. Congratulations to us all!"

Oregon Business, which presented the award, is a magazine that was founded in 1981 and that has won numerous awards themselves. Today, they reach some 20,000 different civic, political and business leaders in Oregon itself. The magazine reports on various business topics, and has a yearly "100 Best Companies to Work for in Oregon", which is their signature project. Starting in 1981, they have expanded their lists to also include 100 Best Green Companies and 100 Best Nonprofits. Any business featured on either of these three lists receives official recognition for their hard work.

One of the reasons why the staffing agency was recognized by Oregon Business is because it is so popular with its many Job Seekers. "Express is awesome," says Jason C. on the Express Employment Facebook page. "They have gone above and beyond for me to make sure I had employment everyday I work through them, always giving me the highest paying jobs based on my credentials, and couldn't ask for a nicer set of staff to be involved with, the Longview Express team will definitely take care of you if you work hard for them."

Express Employment Professionals is committed to continuing to earn the reputation of being the best, supporting their candidates and businesses at every step of the way.
