April 15, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Dentistry for Children and Teens, a clinic in Atlanta, GA, is proud to announce that they have opened a second office in Buckhead. Known as the best and most caring pediatric dentist Atlanta has to offer, the clinic aims to ensure more young people in the region are able to achieve excellent oral health. The clinic is located at 91 West Wieuca Road and is now open for patients.

Dr. Wesley Powell from Dentistry for Children and Teens says: "We understand like no other how different treating adults is from treating younger patients. This is why we have created an environment that is geared specifically towards younger people. We are so happy to have opened a second office in which we can offer these services, and have already welcomed the first patients through our doors."

It is for good reason that this clinic is known as the best childrens dentist Atlanta has to offer. Their clinics are designed to be child friendly in their design, encouraging children to talk about what they think and feel. Additionally, the treatment itself is designed specifically with children in mind. Within the clinic, the emphasis is on fun, while also providing kids with education on their dental health.

The clinic provides a wealth of dentistry services to their young patients. This includes sedation and orthodontics, as well as general dentistry. With their focus on delivering a friendly, caring, welcoming environment, they have received numerous positive reviews. "Dr. Powell has always been excellent - very knowledgeable and great with my kids - and the newest addition to the team, Dr. Sheh, is great as well," says one patient on the clinic's website. "My kids see the same hygienist at each visit, even when we alternate between the two offices, which I think goes a long way toward making the kids more comfortable - and she is just fantastic with both my 2 year old and 7 year old. We've had nothing but positive experiences there."

Patients are encouraged to visit the clinic's website or the clinic itself. This will provide them with an opportunity to see for themselves why Dentistry for Children and Teens is known as the best pediatric dentist Atlanta has to offer.
