April 08, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Chicago's leading mortgage broker pledges to match donations of up to $5,000 in joint effort with WGN's Lou Manfredini aka, "Mr. Fix-It's" Candy Jar. All proceeds are going to help people with developmental disabilities at Misericordia. Donations allow Misericordia to provide over 600 children and adults with disabilities live their lives with love, purpose and dignity.

Misericordia offers a community of care to provide for disabled persons which maximizes potential and development for persons with mild to profound developmental disabilities, many of whom are also physically challenged.

Barry Sturner of President and CEO of Townstone Financial a widely popular residential mortgage lender said, "The people with developmental disabilities are dependant on us and need our help, so we are going to help them. We want to raise awareness of the works of such a wonderful organization that has proudly been helping people since 1921."

The company's founder Barry Sturner continued stating that his company, Townstone Financial would graciously match all donations up to $5,000.00 to help jump start the cherished non profit organizations, Misericordia Candy Day Fundraiser on April 29 & 30th 2016.

Your donations are needed to help fill Lou's Candy Jar and help support those who are dependant on all of Misericordia's wide array of services to help those with mental and physical disabilities.
