Carpenter Realtors Launches New Site To Provide For Sale By Owner Protection

May 18, 2016

May 18, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Anderson, Indiana real estate company Carpenter Realtors is proud to announce the launch of a new website, which the company claims offers For Sale By Owner (FSBO) protection. The company is dedicated to providing specific population groups, including active duty military and veteran personnel, with the best possible services in terms of their home buying or selling activities. The new website focuses specifically on offering FSBO protection.

Carpenter Realtors' Josh Kindlesparker says: "A lot of people choose to sell their homes themselves, without listing with a specific realtor. They do this in an effort to save on various fees. While in principle a very good practice, it also means that they also open themselves up to numerous risks. I want to make sure that they have access to the best possible FSBO protection."

One of the biggest risks people face when they try to sell their property themselves is that they can get a really bad deal. Some people really try to do all the work without professional help and therefore don't even get a proper valuation. As a result, they may be shortchanging themselves without even knowing it. A bigger risk with Madison County real estate that is offered for sale by owner, however, is that buyers see these types of sales as a massive opportunity. It is very common for a potential buyer to offer a substantially low price, hoping that the seller will accept it.

The services that Carpenter Realtors has provided have been very positively reviewed. "Josh was great to work with," says Maureen R.J. on Facebook. "Answered all our questions so we understood. Could call him anytime. Excellent marketing, he made sure our house known out there. I would recommend Josh, hard working and gets the job done."

People are encouraged to like the Madison County Real Estate - Josh Kindlesparker on Facebook page. This will give them an opportunity to check out the important work that he has done, and also to find out more about how he can provide them with FSBO protection, and why this matters in their personal selling efforts. The social media page aims to develop a community of interested people.
