May 06, 2015 -
Center of Intention, an Arizona-based holistic healing company, has announced that Scottsdale energy healer, Dr. Sandra Egli, is offering 3 free meditations through the company website. The business was founded by Dr. Egli, who practices out of the office, and has made it clear that her goal is to promote empowerment and healthy living through naturally relieving blockages in the body and spirit. She has said the following regarding her work with energy healing:

"Energy Healing or Energy Medicine describes specific techniques that help free you from the blocked emotions and energy that drag you down. It is not psychology or counseling. The Center of Intention specializes in Kabbalistic Healing, Soul Retrieval, Family Constellations, Hakomi, and other forms of natural healing."

Currently the Center of Intention is offering 3 free meditation services through the company website, found at http://centerofintention.com. In order to qualify, consumers are encouraged to enter their name and email address through the online form provided. Dr. Sandra Egli, the center's main Scottsdale energy healer, has suggested that these meditations classes are meant to assist individuals in living joyfully.

Aside from the Scottsdale energy healer services supplied through the center, those who visit the company website can also gain access to an informational blog, and other resources that better express the benefits of energy healing and what it can do for each individual who uses it. Center of Intention lists all of the services included in the process as mentioned above, such as Kabbalistic Healing, Soul Retrieval and more. Each is a natural and holistic method of internal healing, meant to support the soul rather than just the body as conventional treatments usually do.

By visiting http://centerofintention.com/, patients of Center of Intention can view class offerings and read more about current pricing options. In person visits are offered at $90 for a sixty minute session or $120 for a ninety minute session, and by registering online a $10 discount is applied to the first visit of any new client on a sixty minute session. Other specials being offered include a $10 discount on a first visit by signing up for the company newsletter on the website. Dr. Sandra Egli has this to say regarding the newsletter:

"I'd like to personally invite you to stay in touch by signing up for the Center of Intention newsletter which is a simple way for me to stay connected and provide positive support, useful insights and you'll also be the first to know about group classes and events I host throughout the year."

Center of Intention also provides over-the-phone sessions for clients who are unable to access the Arizona-based office. These rates run at $80 for sixty minutes and $110 for ninety, with packages offered for both in person and over the phone sessions that supplies users with up to $100 in savings.
