

KickStart Dental Marketing Named 2026 Editor's Choice Top Dental Marketing Agency

August 10, 2026

GREENWOOD VILLAGE, CO - August 10, 2026 -

KickStart Dental Marketing, a dental marketing agency dedicated exclusively to helping dentists and orthodontists grow their practices, has been named the 2026 Editor's Choice Top Dental Marketing Agency by TopMarketingAgencies.com, an editorial directory recognizing leading niche marketing agencies across the United States.

The recognition comes at a time when dental and orthodontic practices are facing an increasingly crowded and competitive marketing landscape. Rising advertising costs, shifting patient acquisition channels, and growing pressure to demonstrate measurable return on marketing spend have made it more difficult than ever for practices to separate genuinely effective marketing partners from agencies offering generic, one-size-fits-all services. The Editor's Choice designation is intended to help practice owners cut through that noise by identifying agencies that have demonstrated consistent, verifiable results within a single, well-understood niche.

The Editor's Choice designation places KickStart Dental Marketing among the top dental marketing agencies reviewed by the TopMarketingAgencies.com editorial team. Agencies are evaluated annually against published criteria, including industry specialization, tenure in the niche, client retention, verifiable results, and transparency. According to TopMarketingAgencies.com, rankings are editorially determined rather than pay-to-play, with agencies re-evaluated each year to ensure the directory continues to reflect current performance rather than past reputation alone. That annual re-scoring process is central to the directory's credibility, as it prevents agencies from resting on a single strong year and requires sustained performance to maintain a listing.

"Dental practices don't need more marketing activity. They need marketing that actually translates into new patients and practice growth," said Chris Pistorius, CEO of KickStart Dental Marketing. "We've spent years building our company specifically around the challenges dentists and orthodontists face, so being recognized as one of the top agencies in our industry is something our entire team is proud of. This isn't a generic marketing award ? it's recognition from an editorial team that specifically evaluated how well we serve dental and orthodontic practices, which is the only market we work in."

KickStart Dental Marketing takes a comprehensive approach to dental practice growth, combining digital marketing strategy, patient acquisition, conversion optimization, and technology to help practices generate measurable results. Rather than focusing solely on clicks, traffic, or lead volume, the agency emphasizes what happens throughout the entire patient acquisition journey, from generating demand to converting opportunities into scheduled patients. That full-funnel philosophy reflects a broader shift in how dental practices are choosing to evaluate marketing performance, moving away from vanity metrics like impressions and website visits toward outcomes that directly affect the schedule book: new-patient appointments, case acceptance, and long-term patient value.

By concentrating exclusively on dentists and orthodontists, KickStart Dental Marketing positions itself differently from generalist agencies that serve clients across unrelated industries. That specialization, the company says, allows its team to build deeper expertise in the specific patient behaviors, referral patterns, insurance considerations, and competitive dynamics that shape marketing performance within dental and orthodontic practices.
