The Cosmopolitan Collection has finally unveiled a 100% Satisfaction Money Back Guarantee supplementing their Organic Pretend Food Choices play set. The company says that if customers are not completely satisfied with their purchase for any reason, a complete money-back refund will be provided to the customer with no questions asked. Women can now organize their makeup and cosmetics with the clear acrylic, injection molded organizer set. Currently available for $36.99, the makeup organizer is designed for aesthetic storage of all cosmetics for both men and women.

The Cosmopolitan Collection?s makeup holder includes 12 optimal sized spaces for lipstick and other lip products. Other features include 1 large space for lotions and moisturizers while 4 ergonomic and easy moving drawers that are each 1 inch in depth is also included. The makeup organizer uses a dual stacking system, allowing 2 separate sections of the cosmetic storage system to either be stacked or placed side by side. Men and women can now store and organize their cosmetics, makeup, fragrances, sewing supplies, and more.

Intended non-exclusively for women, the makeup organizer set boasts 3 deep reservoirs in the rear of the set for the storage of tall and thin cosmetics (such as pencils) that have difficulty standing alone. One reviewer posted on amazon that the drawers were perfect for eye shadow palettes, and the entire system is very easy to clean with soap and water.

A spokesperson for the company says the product is a great gift that is well designed for anyone ranging from a young girl who would like to learn cosmetics to an older gentleman who would like to store his beard cosmetics. Beauticians nationwide are also using the Cosmopolitan Collection?s organizer. Shipped in a 3.6 pound well-designed package to the customer?s front door, the Cosmetic Organizer and Makeup Storage is currently available on amazon.com for $36.99 per system for an openly limited time. Free shipping is now available on Amazon for all orders over 49 dollars.

Customers can now buy through amazon a secured shopping cart, one-Click ordering, verified-purchaser reviews, and a Wish List. Again, all customers are promised a 100% refund if not completely satisfied with their purchase.
