Owned and operated by Blake Anthony, Cornerstone Handyman has completed more than 100 projects over the course of five-plus years of service in the region. The company works with homeowners in Joplin,

Carthage, Webb City, Carl Junction, and surrounding communities, providing repair and maintenance solutions across five core service categories that include general repairs, custom carpentry, interior painting and drywall repair, basic plumbing and electrical work, and home installations and renovation projects.

The process for scheduling a drywall repair is designed to be straightforward. Homeowners contact the company or submit project details online, receive a free, no-obligation estimate with clear pricing, and then schedule a convenient time for the work to be performed. All projects, whether a single patch or a larger renovation, are backed by full liability insurance for homeowner protection.

"Wall damage is one of the most frequent issues homeowners face, and it can affect both the appearance and the integrity of a space," said Blake Anthony, owner of Cornerstone Handyman Services LLC. "The focus with this service is on attention to detail so that a completed repair blends naturally into the existing wall or ceiling, leaving no sign that damage was ever there."

Anthony noted that the decision to formalize the drywall offering reflects ongoing demand from area residents. "Many households come to the company with a damaged wall that has gone unaddressed for months," he said. "Pairing drywall repair with interior painting allows a homeowner to restore an entire room in a single visit, which is often the practical solution people are looking for."

The company emphasizes craftsmanship and clear communication on every job. Its work reflects a broader commitment to serving as a dependable local resource for residential maintenance and improvement needs.
