The Cosmopolitan Collection has publically announced a limited discount of 38% for their recently launched transparent makeup organizer. The clear acrylic makeup organizer and cosmetics organizer set, now available on Amazon for $36.99, features a two-piece injection molded design that sits atop any flat surface. Men and women can store their cosmetics in a fashionable and organized manner. Currently discounted from a base price of $59.99, the Cosmetic Organizer and Makeup Storage is perfectly fit for women of any age.

The cosmetics organizer is intended to separate cosmetic products into various, transparent spaces in order to reduce clutter. Because the make up organizer is produced with injection-molded acrylic, the system is easy to clean and wash. Men and women can also expect four different drawers with spherical, ergonomic handles that many verified-purchasers have complimented on amazon.com. Each transparent drawer is 1 inch in depth while 4 inches in length; however, the two drawers on the bottom of the makeup organizer are 8 inches wide whilst the two drawers on the top of the makeup organizer are 4 inches wide.

Also featuring 12 molded inserts atop the makeup holder, lipstick and other small products such as perfume samples fit neatly into the system. When not used as a makeup organizer, the storage box can also double as a jewelry box, small supplies organizer, or a grooming set separator.

Wonderfully fit for gentlemen and ladies of all ages, the product is often displayed elegantly in many beauty salons and beautician shops. Every shipped package from the United States warehouse weighs in at 3.6 lbs. Furthermore, free shipping is currently available on orders over $49.00 while customers can take advantage of Amazon?s secure shopping cart and an amazon.com Wish List. The product can be purchased for a limited time at $36.99 per set, and customers are protected with a 100% Satisfaction Guarantee, ensuring a refund if they are not satisfied for any reason.
