Tonys Roofing, a family-owned residential roofing contractor based in Portland, Oregon, continues to operate as a licensed, accredited provider of roof repair, roof replacement, and roof maintenance services across the Portland metropolitan area. Public licensing records, independent directories, and multiple review platforms collectively document the company?s credentials and customer feedback, offering homeowners reference points when evaluating local roofing options.

According to the Oregon Construction Contractors Board, Tonys Roofing LLC holds Roofing Contractor license CCB #209110, with bond and insurance information on file. The Better Business Bureau notes a profile describing roof repair, roof maintenance, and roof replacement services. Tonys Roofing?s website identifies the company?s address as 4450 SE 125th Ave, Portland, OR 97236 and states that it focuses on residential roofing services in the Portland area.

Service area descriptions across the company's Facebook page and external directories indicate that Tonys Roofing serves Portland and surrounding communities, including Gresham, Troutdale, Beaverton, Lake Oswego, Hillsboro, Wilsonville, and surrounding areas. Listings describe work on sloped residential roofs, including full roof replacements and roof repairs, among other roof-related emergency services.

Customer rating data appear consistently across several platforms. ServiceAgent's summary of Tonys Roofing's Google Business Profile reports a 4.9-star average rating based on more than 131 reviews, while noting that the company is categorized under "roofing contractor" services. Yelp lists Tonys Roofing's Portland location with a 5.0-star rating based on more than 46 reviews, describing the firm as "customer oriented" and outlining services such as roof repair, roof replacement, re-roofing, and free roof estimates. Directorii's verified listing shows a 4.9-star score from 131 reviews and notes that the company provides cedar, metal, and residential roofing across the broader metro area, with a stated Full Coverage $250,000 guarantee associated with projects booked through the platform.

A January 2026 GlobeNewswire release summarizes Tonys Roofing's review history, stating that the company "continues to earn consistent five-star customer reviews for its roof repair, replacement, maintenance, and cleaning services" across Portland-area neighborhoods and highlighting its A+ BBB rating and documented recognition on Angi. The same release reiterates the company's address, phone number, and website, providing additional contact information for homeowners seeking roof evaluations.

Independent research indicates that online reviews play a significant role in local service selection. BrightLocal's Local Consumer Review Survey 2026 reports that 97% of consumers read reviews when evaluating local businesses, and that star ratings and recency are among the most influential factors when deciding whether to contact a provider. Additional compilations of review statistics suggest that most consumers prefer to use businesses rated at least 4.0-4.5 stars, and that many rely on multiple review sites before making decisions about home services such as roofing.

Within this environment, individual homeowner accounts provide additional detail about contractor performance. Portland homeowner Toby Chuc Google Review offered the following review of his roof replacement experience with Tonys Roofing:

"Our roof was due for a change so I looked at several roofing contractors for a replacement. Tonys was one of them, and Erick came out and gave us a very competitive estimate so we decided to go with Tonys. I had a bit of a leak before work started so I called Erick to see if he can help me put up a tarp in the meantime. He had his boys come early the next day to help me put a tarp (this happened twice because I miscalculated where the drip was but Erick helped me with both times in a very prompt manner). I had a very pleasant time working with Erick and his crew, he was very communicative when I needed info on something. He answered all of my questions in a timely manner, and I asked a lot on this project. Erick made this entire project as painless as possible and I would highly recommend any of my friends and neighbors of his company. Thanks again brother, the roof came out great and I told you that I would leave you a big fat 5 star review.?

Reviews on Yelp, Angi, Directorii, and other directories frequently reference similar themes, including explanations of existing roof conditions, clarity about scope and schedule, and site cleanup after projects. Tonys Roofing notes that these external profiles and published feedback are maintained by third?party platforms and encourages homeowners to consult licensing records, multiple review sources, and detailed written proposals when evaluating any roofing contractor.
